Credit Mobilier Suits.

Attorney General Williams will soon commence Credit Mobilier suits in Pennsylvania. It is reported that the Union Pacific Railroad managers expect to realize twenty million dollars by the proposed prosecutions. FORTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, March 19, 1873.

SENATE.

Changing the Rules.

Mr. WRIGHT moved that the Senate take up for consideration the resolution submitted by him proposing that a previous question may be demanded either by a majority vote, or in some modified form, etc.

Mr. THURMAN objected to the consideration of the resolution.

Mr. WRIGHT showed the necessity of adopting some such rule for the purpose of facilitating the transaction of public business.

Mr. SHERMAN hoped the resolution would be taken up and referred to the Committee on Rules without debate and let them examine the whole subject and report at the next session.

After considerable debate the Senate, by a vote of 35 against 30, refused to take up and thus refer the resolution.

Report on Agriculture Called for.

On motion of Mr. ANTHONY the Commissioner of Agriculture was requested to communicate to the Senate his annual report, with accompanying papers, which were ordered to be printed.

Levees of the Mississippi.

Mr. WEST asked the Senate to take up his resolution giving the Committee on Levees of the Mississippi River leave to sit during the recess and report on the condition of the levees of the Mississippi; also on the propriety of the Government controlling and maintaining the same.

The Caldwell Case.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the case of Senator Caldwell.

Mr. CONKLING said that Caldwell was legally elected, and now, two years after the election, the Senate was asked to declare he never was elected at all, and that in law and in fact no such election ever took place, and that in law the seat has been vacant all the time. He (Conkling) could not so pronounce. His oath, as he understood it, forbade him doing so. Every time the Senate transcends the law in order that a particular good might come, they glided with new light the exclamation of Rowland: "Oh, Liberty, how many crimes are committed in thy name!"

The Chair decided the resolution out of order. The Senate could not hold that Caldwell was not elected and at the same time maintain that they could expel him. They could expel no one except he be a member, and no one could be a Senator unless he was so elected. But for the purpose of expelling him, would the Senate hold him up for a while as a Senator for the purpose of knocking him down? Either Caldwell was elected or the Senate have no power to expel him.

Mr. Conkling, without concluding his remarks, gave way for the executive session, at the expiration of which the Senate adjourned.

LEGISLATURES.

Ohio.

COLUMBUS, March 19.—In the House this morning the bill to increase the Governor's salary to six thousand dollars per annum was indefinitely postponed.

The Senate bill for the protection of sub-contractors, laborers, boarding-house keepers, and material men in their claims against railroad contractors failed to pass.

In the House this afternoon a bill was introduced so as to amend the incorporation act as to provide for the formation of companies to purchase real estate, subdivide and sell the same. After a long discussion the bill to provide for the appointment of a State Inspector of Coal Mines was postponed until Thursday next week.

The Senate spent almost the entire day in vigorous discussion of the bill to prevent lotteries and policy gambling, and pending the discussion the Senate took a recess.

Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 19.—In the House of Representatives, to-day, the Senate bill to amend the tippling laws of the State was adopted in lieu of the House bill on the same subject. It leaves the question to a vote of the people of the different districts, wards, etc., on the 1st of June, whether they will allow tippling houses in their midst. It will be signed by the Governor.

Michigan.

LANSING, March 19.—Both houses adopted a resolution expressing condemnation of the action of the majority of the late Congress in voting to the members an increase of their pay during the expiring hours of the session at a time and in a manner to prevent any remonstrance from the people against their action, applauding those who opposed the measure, only regretting that they did not refuse to take from the people's treasury the amount of extra pay so voted. Such legislation and action is not what the tax-payers and people demanded or expected, and leads to distrust and dissatisfaction, as a departure from that strict personal integrity that the people, without respect to politics, have a right to expect and demand of their representatives in the National Congress.

New Jersey.

TRENTON, March 19.—In the House the Committee on Corporations reported adversely the Senate New Jersey Railway bill—a Pennsylvania Railroad project. The report was adopted—32 to 26.

Verdict of the Jury in the Anderson Suicide Case.

FRANKLIN, PA., March 19.—After a full day's deliberation, the Coroner's jury in the Anderson suicide case has returned the following verdict:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Venango County, S.S.—An inquisition indented and taken at the City of Franklin, in the County of Venango aforesaid, on the 14th day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, before me, T. B. Lane, Coroner of the county aforesaid, upon the view of the body of Thomas F. Anderson, then and there lying, and, upon the oath of J. H. Osmer, A. A. Plumer, P. R. Gray, J. O. H. Simonds, S. A. Thomas and J. E. Fleming, good and lawful men of the county aforesaid, who, being sworn to inquire, on the part of the Commonwealth, when, where, how and after what manner the said Thomas F. Anderson came to his death, do say that the aforesaid Thomas F. Anderson, from a short time before and at the time of his death on the day and year aforesaid, was of insane mind, and that the said Thomas F. Anderson, being of insane mind as aforesaid, did on the said 14th day of March, at his residence in the said city of Franklin, then and there, being in the yard near his said residence, in the presence of his family, between the hours of nine and ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, he then having a pistol in his hand, of his own act, shoot and discharge the contents thereof on and upon the right side of his head and then and there himself did shoot and kill; so the jurors aforsaid, upon their oaths aforsaid, say that the aforesaid Thomas F. Anderson, from the cause aforsaid, in the manner and form aforsaid, came to his death, and not otherwise.

In witness whereof, as well the aforesaid Coroner as the jurors aforsaid, have to this inquisition put their hands and seals this nineteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

COLUMBUS.

Ohio State Temperance Convention.

COLUMBUS, March 19.—The State Temperance Convention assembled at 2 P. M., and was called to order by Rev. D. A. Rannall, who delivered an address of welcome. A permanent organization was effected by electing Rev. F. Merrick, of Delaware, Chairman, and Revs. E. L. Rexford and J. J. Jarry, of Columbus, Secretaries. A telegram was read from the Pittsburgh M. E. Conference, in session at Salem, Ohio, expressing sympathy, and declaring its members would preach, pray and vote for the legal, entire and eternal prohibition of the liquor traffic. The usual committees were appointed.

At the evening session the following resolutions were adopted after a long discussion:

Resolved, That we hereby request the coming Constitutional Convention of Ohio to continue the clause of the present constitution, providing that no license to traffic in intoxicating liquors shall be granted in the State, and to give the General Assembly power to legislate against such traffic and the evils resulting therefrom.

Resolved, That we are opposed to any change in the laws of the State whereby any less legal restraints shall be placed upon the liquor traffic.

Resolved, That as a temperance people we will use our influence in all suitable ways to elect such persons to office as will use their official authority to create and sustain such laws as will most effectually suppress the sale and use of intoxicating drinks.

A plan for effecting a more perfect organization of the temperance people was agreed on. Messrs. E. E. White, D. A. Randall, J. J. Jany, C. N. Olds, and R. Burr, all of Columbus, were chosen as a State Central Committee. This committee was instructed to prepare petitions to be circulated throughout the State, calling on the Constitutional Convention to legislate in accordance with the above resolutions. A committee was also appointed to devise and report at a future Convention some plan for a permanent State temperance organization. The Convention adjourned sine die.

HARRISBURG.

Increased Pay for Members Not a Popular Idea in the Senate.

THE APPROPRIATION BILL PARED DOWN IN MERCILESS STYLE.

An Agreement Between the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Factions.

A SEPARATE VOTE CONCEDED TO ALLEGHENY CITY.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.
HARRISBURG, March 19, 1873.

The House worked hard yesterday and last night in the disposition of the private calendar. There were three sessions, morning, afternoon and night, the latter lasting until after midnight, in all nine hour arduous labor for the day. At the afternoon session, over three hundred and fifty bills were reported from Committee. The Senate has modified the House resolution for an adjournment on the 27th day of March to adjourn on the 10th of April. If the business mapped out can be completed by this time—that is the private business—it will require hard work, and the ignoring of public bills, not esteemed of much account by most of the members when they come in conflict with their little schemes of special legislation. Governor Hartranft has done a great deal to resist this tide of evil, and if it had not been for his determined stand it would have been of far greater volume, and embraced projects of unparalleled enormity. The good results of the Governor's action are not fully indicated by the number of bills he has vetoed, for the veto of one measure for certain specified reasons, requires a compliance by all others of a like character with the conditions of Executive approval. The Governor vetoed but two of the flood of loose bank charters pending, but these vetoes brought twenty or thirty others up to the required standard. The same with manufacturing companies, attempted to be chartered outside the general laws of the State.

Increase of Salaries and Extravagance Generally.

The Senate Finance Committee this morning reported the appropriation bill, but not as it came from the House of Representatives by any means. In the first place all increase of salaries of State officers and the clerks of departments was cut off, and their pay remains the same as now fixed by law. The increase of the salaries of members of the Legislature from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars was also rejected by the obdurate Finance Committee. There was no division on the point that it was an outrage for members to vote an increase of their own pay—putting their hands in the State's strong box, as it were, and filching money out of it, not because of any equitable claim to it, but because they have the power to do so. The general view in the Senate is that if the salaries of members should be increased, such increase should not be made operative until the expiration of the terms of members voting the increase. The Finance Committee has also cut off from the bill all appropriations for charitable or educational institutions, in the control of which the State is not directly concerned. Under this rule the appropriations for the Homeopathic Hospital in Pittsburgh and the Western University have been cut off, and also appropriations for institutions of a like character in other parts of the State. Of course the bill will go to a conference committee for final adjustment.

Separate Vote on Consolidation.

There are representatives here from Pittsburgh and Allegheny, both for and against consolidation, and their contest so far has been amiable and good natured. From Allegheny we have Mayor Callow, City Treasurer Macferran, ex-Sheriff Fleming, Alfred Slack and others, while Pittsburgh sends Harry Oliver, Fred Magee and some other gentlemen; but those named are the most conspicuous and active. Hitherto the point of difference has been whether there should be a separate vote of the two cities, or a combined vote of both cities on the acceptance or rejection of the new charter providing for consolidation. The Pittsburghers seem to have grown a little weak in the back, and are now willing to concede a separate vote under certain restrictions. At the next election in October, it is proposed the people of Allegheny and all the territory on the north side proposed to be embraced within the limits of the consolidated city, shall vote for or against consolidation; if there should be a majority for, of course a union will follow, but if the majority is against, a similar election will be held every three years for the space of fifteen years. By that time, of course, the question should be definitely settled one way or the other.

At a meeting of the Committee on Municipal Corporations held this afternoon, brief explanations were made by Messrs. Oliver and Slack, in regard to the proposition for a separate election, agreed on by the representatives of the opposing interests. It was the understanding the committee would report the charter sent on from Pittsburgh, amended in the manner indicated. The North Side territory to vote on the question, outside of Allegheny City, comprises the boroughs of Etna, Sharpsburg, and McClure township.

As the case stands, the Alleghenians have undoubtedly achieved a triumph. The separate vote was the vital point with them, and they have secured it. The friends of the original measure claim they could have carried it through the House, but Senator Graham had sufficient influence to defeat it in the Senate; hence the acceptance of conditions agreeable to the Alleghenians. I need hardly say they are equitable and proper, for the fact is apparent to all. A forced consolidation is objectionable in all its aspects.

Three More Vetoes.

The Governor returned to the House to-day without his approval a bill chartering the People's Cemetery of Western Pennsylvania. He points out to the members that by the act of 1854 the Courts are empowered to charter cemetery associations, or amend acts of incorporation granted by the Legislature. Hence the law is in conflict with the Constitution.

The Governor also sent back to the Senate two bills, one incorporating St. Luke's Hospital, and the other the Home of the Friendless, both in the eastern part of the State. The reason for executive disapproval is that the courts have power to grant the desired charters.

The Philadelphia Election Law.

Colonel McClure's bill, providing a new election law for Philadelphia, with additional guards to prevent false registration, repeating, doctoring returns, and other eccentricities, came up in the Senate to-day, and was postponed until next week. It is understood this is done to give Senator Alexander time to conclude the preparation of a speech on the subject. The Republican Senators held a caucus on this bill, and agreed on the postponement. Its passage even by the Senate is very doubtful, although there are a good number of Republican Senators who are in favor of it, with some modifications. The time of the session is growing too short for any chance of success for a measure of this kind.

Minnequa County Corruption.

The Herdic new county bill came up in the House this morning as the special order, and throughout the day it was the subject of a good deal of excitement and contention. The preliminary votes were very close, and neither side appeared to have a reliable majority. On some votes the opponents of the bill were ahead, and on others the friends of the measure led. On one vote, accepted as a test, the opponents of the bill counted up 49, and its friends 46. The debate was confined to speeches by Mr. Dartt, of Bradford, against the bill, and by Mr. Brockway, of Columbia, in favor of it. The Herdic lobbyists were pretty busy during the day in driving in as many members as they could to the support of the bill, and the jokes were rather pointed on the advanced rates made necessary by the close votes and consequent need of reinforcements. The bill continued before the House until the hour fixed for the consideration of the Tax bill, which came up as a special order. It then went over under the ruling of the Speaker, which Sam Joseph, who had charge of the bill, seemed to take as a sore blow to Herdic's scheme.

On this little joker, of which there is but one opinion about the Capitol, on all the votes so far taken, of the Allegheny county delegation Messrs. McCormick, Newmyer, Young and Wainwright voted against the bill, and Messrs. Ballantine, Ramsey, and Sample with the jobbers and Sam. Josephs. Comment is not needed. ARCTIC.

Mr. SAMPLE called up and had passed the act authorizing the Presbyterian Church of Sharpsburg to remove their burial ground, and a supplement to the Real Estate Savings Bank.

Mr. NEWMYER had the bill for improving Station avenue from Highland avenue to Butler street called up and passed.

Mr. WAINWRIGHT had McCandless avenue added, with the restrictions which require a majority to petition for said improvement stricken out.

The New County Bill.

The House then considered the new county bill and passed it to the third reading by a close vote.

Consolidation.

The Allegheny delegation appeared before the Committee to which the consolidation bill had been referred, and after a discussion the consolidationists were compelled to yield to an amendment giving Allegheny City a separate vote on the question.

Mr. Oliver made the argument for the bill, and Mr. Black against. Various amendments were proposed, such as compelling free bridges with the vote, or leaving it to the freeholders of Allegheny City, and several other moves, but the committee from Allegheny would not listen to anything but a square vote of the people of Allegheny City whether they should consolidate or not, without any entanglements.

Messrs. Guyer, Fleming, Huckenstein and Slack, the Allegheny Committee, will remain here until the bill is fixed.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 19, 1873.

ST. LOUIS.

The Locomotive Engineers' Strike.

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—Grand-Chief Engineer Wilson, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, in his interview, late last night, with General Superintendent Van Horne, stated that the Brotherhood was not engaged in the strike; it was wholly the work of the Moberly division, was in violation of the rules of the organization, and would not be sanctioned by it; that the way to deal with those engaged in the strike would be to suspend the division until the next general Convention, and then, upon investigation, their charter might be taken from them. He was emphatic in the statement that the Brotherhood does not sanction strikes. He stated that he had not the power to decide the matter, but that he would counsel the strikers that they had gone too far, and should cease their demonstrations.

FIRES.

Montreal, Canada.

A Confidence Man Arrested.

LOUISVILLE, March 19.—Detectives Bligh and Gallagher arrested and brought here, last night, from Effingham County, Illinois, a confidence man, named Henry Rochelle, alias Jennings, alias Carl Vannaine, alias Charles Hilderbrandt.

The prisoner had been in correspondence with the Cashier of the Falls City Tobacco Bank, pretending to be a pal of the bank robbers and to have become angry with them, and offered to expose them and secure their capture and the recovery of the stolen bonds, if he paid him $500 in advance. From papers found on his person it was evident he had been practicing the same game with the officers of the Bank at Columbus, Ky., which has recently been robbed, and the Cashier murdered; also, under the name of C. D. Vanname, with the officers of the Granite State National Bank of Exeter, New Hampshire. He was brought before the City Court this morning and remanded to jail till Friday to allow the detectives time to work up his case.

The Proposed Methodist University.

NASHVILLE, March 19.—The Methodists of Tennessee determined during the past year to raise one million dollars to establish a university. The Board of Trustees, when half the sum was raised, was authorized to take steps to begin the work. The subscription of Commodore Vanderbilt of half a million is regarded as making the university an established fact. The remainder of the million will be raised, so leading Methodists believe, without serious difficulty. Probably Nashville will be selected as the location. There is much rejoicing among Methodists and citizens generally over the munificence of Commodore Vanderbilt.

Banks Responsible for Deposits.

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—In the case of David Scull against the Kensington Bank, for money and $30,000 in Government bonds stolen from a box deposited for safe keeping, when the bank was robbed in 1871, the jury this morning, after being out two days, returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

UNDER NEW AUSPICES.

A Thoroughly Safe Produce Commission House—New Life at an Old Stand.

The old time Produce Commission House, No. 201 Liberty street, which has been so long presided over by Messrs. Woodworth & Davidson, has undergone a transformation in this respect recently, and will hereafter be under the sole management of Mr. O. H. Woodworth, who has purchased the interest of his former partner. Under his new management the old house seems to have renewed its youth, and the enterprise and new life manifested by Mr. Woodworth, give promise that the old stand will be even more popular in the future than ever before. The gentleman thoroughly understands every detail of the trade, and "on the street" is noted for his judgment in reference to the market and his uniformly safe calculations. He watches every turn in affairs closely, and from his extensive experience is enabled to approximate the market with unusual exactitude. Mr. Woodworth, withal, has obtained a high reputation for integrity and honorable dealing, and no reasonable patron has ever had or will ever have cause to complain of the manner in which business entrusted to him, is disposed of. Our farmer friends who have produce to sell would do well to refer to his market report published in to-day's paper, and then send their merchandize to him for sale. They will find his terms reasonable, his returns prompt, his facilities first class, and himself in every way reliable. Remember the number 201 Liberty street.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

CRIMINAL COURT—JUDGE STERRETT.

Christ Greenewalt, who was charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, was found guilty, but the jury recommended him to mercy on account of his advanced age.

Moses Myers, indicted for embezzlement, on the oath of Henry Hyman, plead nolle contendere.

Joseph McKee et al., charged with malicious mischief in entering the store of Messrs. Green & Dixson last winter. It will be recollected that these were the parties arrested, after a desperate struggle, in McCartney's saloon, and who, from the number of stolen goods found in their possession, were believed to have been the burglars who committed so many of the depredations last winter. Verdict of guilty on the first count, entering the building, and not guilty on the second, the intent to commit a felony.

The last case was that of the Commonwealth vs. Levi Wolf, charged with receiving stolen goods. Wolf keeps a junk shop, and is charged with buying iron from boys who stole it from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's yards.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STERRETT.

The Jury in the case of Henry Brown vs. Peter A. Reed, impleaded, etc., returned a verdict for plaintiff for $366.75; action brought to recover the price of lumber sold.

In the case of McIntyre & Friedley vs. Annie Flood, Thomas J. Flood, Mrs. E. Strain impleaded with John Flood, deceased, owners and reputed owners, and Ramsay & O'Brien, being a scire facias on a mechanic's lien, the Jury rendered for plaintiff for $57.68.

A verdict for $5,400 was rendered for plaintiff in the case of John Allebrand vs. David Clark, being an action to recover the price of a cow sold.

The case of the American Steel Company vs. William Faber was taken up. This is an action to recover two thousand dollars unpaid subscription to the capital stock of the company. The defendant subscribed $5,000 to the capital stock of the company, and paid $3,000. The defense was that the Directors had by vote relieved him from payment of the balance. The jury returned a verdict for plaintiffs.

The Court, on motion of D. W. Bell, attorney for defendant, granted a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why the judgment and all proceedings should not be set aside, and in the meantime all proceedings stayed, in the case of W. McClintock & Co. vs. Charles H. Prescott.

The constables of the Second, Eighth, Fourteenth, Twenty-eighth and Thirtieth wards, Pittsburgh, borough of Braddock, Tarentum and Scott township, will be heard before the Grand Jury on their returns, on Thursday, March 20th, 1873, at ten o'clock A. M.

Lakeville;

Or, SUBSTANCE AND SHADOW. By MARY HEALY, author of "A Summer's Romance," etc. 1 vol., 8vo. With Illustrations. Paper covers. $1.00; cloth, $1.50.

The author of "Lakeville" is the daughter of the eminent portrait painter, Healy, whose home is at Chicago, or rather was before the great fire. "Lakeville" describes life in that city with singular force and fidelity, and is, besides, an interesting story, well told in an animated style. In the latter part of the novel the scene changes to France and Italy, in both of which countries Miss Healey has long resided. "Lakeville" has already been published in England, where it was received with unusual favor.

The Saturday Review, in an elaborate notice, pronounced it one of the freshest and most original, and, at the same time, most interesting of American novels.

REMARKS.

Butter is coming in more freely, and prices are easier, though good stock not quotably lower. Eggs dropped to 18@20c last week, but since then, under the influence of an increased demand, prices have advanced. Apples in better demand, and good sound fruit is scarce and higher. Cheese in fair demand at quotations, especially for best grades. There has been some inquiry for dried apples within the past week, for shipment to Chicago, and the market is a shade firmer, but the supply is still in excess of present demand, and prices remain unchanged. Peaches continue dull. Grain market continues dull, and prices are weak with a drooping tendency. Flour is also dull and weak, and within the past thirty days prices have declined from 50 to 75c per barrel. The receipts of country meat continue very meagre.

N.B.—This report can be relied upon, as I got it up independent of other parties, and the prices quoted are from actual sales. Correspondence invited, and any information in regard to our market cheerfully given. Stencil plates and blank invoices furnished free on application.

KING, REED & CO.

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1873.

The Pennsylvania Legislature will adjourn finally on the 10th of April, a resolution to that effect having passed the Senate unanimously yesterday.

A Cable dispatch says a serious riot occurred at Wolverhampton, near Birmingham, England, on Tuesday last, in which about three thousand persons were engaged.

The very fact that the present management of the Erie railroad of New York, dreads a legislative investigation, leads us to hope that it will be given. There are many reasons for believing that Erie, under its present management, is but little better off than it was under the Fisk and Gould regime.

Hon. William A. Richardson, the new Secretary of the Treasury, is a native of Massachusetts, a Harvard graduate, and has been on the bench of his State for sixteen years. In 1869 he was made First Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and during the last four years in the occupancy of the office has had no small share in the administration of the National finances.

Three years ago an original idea was observed in one of the Pittsburgh papers.—Cincinnati Chronicle.

The above libelous item we have seen applied to the newspapers of at least a dozen other cities; but even supposing the statement correct, Pittsburgh is still decidedly in advance of Cincinnati, for we have yet to observe the first idea originating in the papers of that village.

To-morrow we shall probably hear on what basis the British Premier will consent to resume his functions of head of the Cabinet. It is pretty clear that, in spite of Mr. Gladstone's strong qualifications for parliamentary leadership, he will not be able to get either Parliament or the country to swallow the Irish University bill. Unless Mr. Gladstone is determined to make cabinet crises as frequent in England as in France, he will doubtless yield gracefully to circumstances by throwing the University bill as a tub to the opposition whale.

Two more members of the Forty-Second Congress have been heard from in reference to the back pay which they are entitled to under the salary bill. Hon. C. N. Potter, of New York, has returned his to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, with a letter explaining that while he voted for the bill, it was with the understanding that the increase should in no case apply to existing terms of service. The Hon. George F. Hoar, of the VIIIth Massachusetts Congressional District, has presented his to the Worcester Free Institute, for the benefit of pupils from his district in that school.

The opinion delivered by Judge Agnew in Philadelphia, representing the decision of the Supreme Court relative to the constitutionality of Local Option, is not merely important just at this juncture, but to our minds, conclusive as well. It shows that the law under consideration, (and we presume that which applies to this city is based upon it) is in itself complete, the election being merely an expression of opinion on the part of the people as to the expediency of enforcing it. In this view of the case the law will stand judicial investigation, and hence the vote to-morrow is all the more important.

The President having re-appointed all the members of his Cabinet, except Mr. Boutwell, who has been elected United States Senator, the complete Cabinet is composed as follows:—Secretary of State, Hamilton Fish; Secretary of War, William W. Belknap; Secretary of the Navy, George M. Robeson; Secretary of the Interior, Columbus Delano; Secretary of the Treasury, William A. Richardson; Postmaster General, John A. J. Creswell; Attorney General, George H. Williams. The appointment of Mr. Richardson as the successor of Mr. Boutwell, if it has any significance at all, means that the policy of the late Secretary is to be continued.

The financial budget, as presented by the Thiers Government in France to the National Assembly, is certainly very surprising. It shows that no loan will be needed to complete the payment of the German indemnity, as it falls due, and that the payments are to be made within a few months, thus relieving French territory of the presence of German troops. There is in this fact, not merely a wonderful instance of recuperative energy, but an intimation that prostrated France may soon again become a formidable military rival. While we do not believe the best interests of France require that she should seek to avenge her humiliations by a renewal of her war with Germany, we presume that the spirit of revenge will overcome all peaceful considerations.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, voted to increase the pay of Congressmen, on the ground that additional compensation was necessary in order that they might live decently in Washington. One of the Washington papers explains as follows what Stewart meant: "The most superb furniture in Washington is said to be that in the house of Senator Stewart, selected by Mrs. Stewart during her five years' sojourn in Europe, and valued at two hundred thousand dollars. There is a table composed of a gilt stand, supporting a slab of the finest black marble, inlaid with flowers and fruits of Florentine mosaic, and a cabinet of ebony and Florentine mosaic, which is said by connoiseurs to be equaled only by one in the Pitti Palace." This, we suppose, is what Senator Stewart calls "living decently in Washington," for which the people are to pay by increasing the compensation of members of Congress.

LABOR STRIKES AND CAPITAL COMBINATIONS.

There is no question agitating the capitalist and laboring classes so much, at this time, as the strike expected to take place by the different trades unions of New York and other eastern cities, when the Spring trade fully opens up. On this subject the Philadelphia Press says there is unrest over the civilized world among men who are working for fixed salaries. The allegation on the one side is, that capital is making all the profits—growing rich on gigantic accumulations, while labor never progresses, is stinted in its pay, and suffers whenever it aspires to higher wages. The laborer complains that he is unable to gather sufficient ahead to insure him rest in his old days, or relief should he be overtaken by sickness. There is some reason in such a complaint. He whose prudence admonishes him to look out for the future is sure to be a thinking man, and whenever a man thinks and calculates, he is not easily satisfied unless he receives what is right. Of late the productive classes of the world have wonderfully advanced in intelligence. Those who work for others see vast establishments growing up; behold great schemes bringing in rich rewards; but when a distribution is made, the mechanic, on whose genius and skill these are brought about, receives the lesser part, the fraction, while to capital is accorded the bulk of the profit. But on the other hand, if a venture of money fail, if an effort to push a certain production meet with no success, the loser is the capitalist, the gainer the journeyman mechanic, who demands and receives his pay. The capital sunk in mechanical, mercantile, and banking ventures, the losses from misconceptions of trade, are in many cases kept from the public for fear of injury to trade, while the profits are displayed with vain pomposity to prove ability for success and thereby command increased public confidence. Here is one of the secrets of the unrest among the mechanics and laboring men of the United States. They are not dissatisfied because they are actually suffering, because their wages will not support their families, but because the extravagant living of the rich and improvident excites their envy and arouses their jealousy. The same comparison is made in all branches of trade, and out of this jealousy we have springing up, all over the country, the labor unions and preparations for strikes. These strikes are not pressed, as we have already written, by an absolute suffering from want. They are not uprisings for bread—not combinations to resist wrong—but a determination to get more for work because capital can afford to pay it, because the evidence is apparent that labor is the true source of wealth, and therefore the laborer wants a larger share of his own creation, that he, too, may deck his wife and daughter in the finery of the times and adorn his home with the beautiful. Every man wants to become rich suddenly. The idea of accumulation is the controlling influence in all circles, and to have money is now the sole aim of mankind. The wages paid to officials are increased in all the departments of the Government. The extras given to public servants often sum up more than the regular stipulated pay. The fee bills for official labor make millionaires of men in office a single term. These are facts which the great mass comprehend, and therefore it is that we hear of the preparation for strikes, all of which are only a new hope in a different class of men to get rich. Salaries, like fancy stocks, have become the object of "corners;" each branch of mechanics propose to make a "corner" in their pay for the purpose of increasing it.

Can we blame these men? If a merchant so manages the market as to make a large fortune in a short time, do we not applaud his sagacity? If a dozen shrewd dealers in stock are able to control a certain security, and they realize large sums of money without adding a particle to production, do we not admire their genius and daring? What is there different in the strike of a number of mechanics? The world consoles itself by comparison. We justify ourselves by what our neighbor does, and therefore the mechanics, beholding the grab-game played in all departments of life, are imbued with the controlling idea of the age, and hurry to get rich. As long as this idea prevails the, man on a fixed salary will never be satisfied. He will always be in a condition to strike, and as his neighbor makes a dollar in easy speculations, he will yield to his cupidity and avarice to add a fraction to his wages, that an additional dollar or two at the end of the week may fall to his pay. We see no end to these rivalries. There is no fixed principle to direct them. It is all greed—money greed; and the solution of the problem of strikes is just as difficult as the solution of many another yet uncleared mystery.

MORALS IN POLITICS.

One of the peculiar notions, that seem to form a part of the unspoken thoughts of a class in our population is, that there is a complete disseverance between morality and political expediency, or in other words, that morals do not enter into the practical workings of politics. We can trace to this theory very many of the evils that have cropped out in our public life of late. It is generally held, for example, that lying, cheating, double-dealing, violence, and many other items that may be mentioned, are invasions of the moral code. In individual dealings this theory is carried out in practice; but when persons really very careful in their dealings with their fellows, come in contact with the people as a mass, or with the Government, they readily seek advantages which in other places they would scorn to take.

The late Credit Mobilier operations are an illustration of our point. It is perfectly palpable that the success of that movement depended on the fact that the general public and the Government were the parties to be cheated, and not individuals who might at any moment come forward, and confront the wrong-doers with their crimes. The vast number of overcharges made in dealings with the Government, false statements in times of heated political discussion, frauds in voting, whether by means of coffee-pot naturalization papers, or repeating,—these are but a few of the derelictions from morals which obtain in our political life.

It may be a question for the metaphysician whether public immoralities are the outgrowth of private infractions of the moral law, or vice versa, whether public wrong-doing leads to private immorality. It is certain that men fall into the temptation to do wrong most readily where the public, rather than a specific individual, is involved. This fact is better shown than else by the circumstance that persons who are honorable in their individual relation, will unhesitatingly engage in the violation of public law, at times, for partisan advantages. The frauds in connection with the soldiers' votes during the war, have always been understood to have been perpetrated by persons generally honorable. So with the coffee-pot naturalization papers in this State; and, so far as the principals are concerned, so with the average of political wrong doing. The preponderance of fact and evidence, in our judgment, is in support of the idea that immoralities are more readily perpetrated against the public, and notably in politics than in any other direction.

The remedy for all this cannot be mistaken. It consists, primarily, in so carefully elevating the standard of politics as to absolutely prevent the outrageous crimes which have broken out like epidemics, from time to time. That this can be done is shown by the general tone of political discussion, so prevalent now, as compared with that of twenty years ago. The loathsome abuse, and violent personalities, which but two decades since were thought to be entirely proper, have given way to the calm discussion of principles, or to criticism, which while trenchant, is fair and just. It is generally conceded that the standard of newspaper morals, in the particulars referred to, has been lifted up by two facts—the development of news giving, and the improvements in intelligence which have taken place among the people. Generalized, this simply means that the surrounding of newspapers demanded fairness, and they have been constrained to give it.

The law thus indicated can be readily applied to every department of our public life. If the people will turn out every Congressman who voted for or accepted an increase of salary, especially back pay, it will be a long time before another increase will be made. If every person in public life, who became involved in Credit Mobilier, is frowned into privacy, others will hesitate before plunging into similar rascalities.

The condition of our public life is such that it is time the better element among our citizens should look this subject in the face, and carefully embody their views as to private morals in their public action. It may not be generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the moral and religious element in this country hold the balance of political power. The statistics clearly prove this. As a result, they are largely responsible for the moral character of our politics. Their duty is, to be alive to every political agitation, to be in attendance at primaries, to take an active part in every political contest. If they supinely fold their arms, and sigh idly over the shortcomings of politicians, the country may go to the bad; but if they wield the power they really possess, they can regenerate Pittsburgh, Allegheny county, the State, the country, in a single year.

Amadeo was assured that a warm reception awaited him on his return to Italy, and that his choice of Turin, as a place of residence, met with the King's approval.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Instructions Concerning Standing Committees—Printing of Reports—The Report on Legislation.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18, 1873.

Reports of Standing Committees.

Mr. MacVeagh, that the standing committees be instructed to make their reports in time to have them printed before the adjournment on the 28th inst., except the Committees on Schedule and Revision and Adjustment.

Printing Reports

By Mr. Wetherill, that the Committee on Printing be directed to have printed a sufficient number of the reports of Committees, that each member and officer of the Convention may be furnished with three copies.

Report on Legislation.

The Convention then went into a Committee of the Whole on the Legislation report, the 25th section being under consideration. The debate of yesterday was reviewed and participated in by Messrs. Lear, Palmer, White, MeVeagh and Temple.

The amendments were all voted down, when the vote was taken upon the section, which was not agreed to.

Section 26. No act of Assembly shall limit the amount to be recovered for injuries to person or property; and in case of death from such injuries, the right of action shall survive, and the Legislature shall prescribe for whose benefit such action shall be prosecuted.

Mr. Biddle (Phila.) offered an amendment, as follows, to be read at the end of the section:

No act of Assembly shall prescribe any limitation of time within which suits may be brought against corporations for injuries to person or property, or for other causes different from that fixed by the general laws prescribing the time for the limitation of actions; and existing laws so prescribing are annulled and avoided.

Judge Woodward was opposed to the section and amendment, and did not believe in restricting the Legislature in its power to limit the amount of damages or the time in which suits may be entered to recover damages for injuries from railroads or other corporations.

Messrs. Cuyler, Newlin, White, Biddle, Gowen and Dallington argued the subject at length, but the hour for adjournment arrived before a vote was taken.

OUR RAILROADS.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders—The Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago and the Pan Handle Railways—Annual Election of Directors—Reports of the Meetings.

Yesterday at noon the stockholders of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company held their annual meeting at their office, corner of Wood street and Sixth avenue.

The meeting was organized by calling Jacob Henrici, Esq., of Economy, to the chair, and appointing F. M. Hutchinson, Esq., as Secretary.

Gen. Cass, President, then submitted a verbal report. He said a written report would be prepared and printed and sent to the stockholders. He had not had time to prepare it to submit at the present meeting, for the reason that he had not obtained all the facts from the Lessees that were necessary. There was no important business to transact except the election of Directors to fill vacancies in the Board caused by expirations of terms.

While the President proceeded to state that among the most important matters transpiring during the year was the decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio in what was known as the quo warranto case, which was brought for the purpose of compelling the company to show by what authority they exercised the rights of a corporation in that State. The decision was adverse to the interests of the company in some particulars and decidedly favorable in others. It was adverse because it decided that the company was not a corporation of Ohio, but a foreign company. The favorable part of the decision was that the Court held that it could enjoy all the rights accorded to other corporations in the State, subject to provisions of the law.

Passing from this point the President stated that under the authority given by a resolution that "Betterment Bonds" to the aggregate of $2,000,000 had been issued to the lessees to reimburse them for repairs and for bettering the condition of the road. The lessees asked for authority to spend $2,000,000 additional for adding to the rolling stock of all kinds, enlarging the shops, purchasing new tools, and making extensive repairs, etc.

It was not expected that all the improvements and additions would be made during the present year, but they would be by the close of the ensuing year. The lessees report that the aggregate net earnings for the year of the road, exclusive of the two branches reached $9,839,000, and the total, including the two branches were $10,336,000, or five times as much the General stated, as he ever expected they would reach when he assumed charge of the consolidated roads in 1866. The rents and interest have been paid profitably by the lessees.

The President stated that another very important question had been raised since the decision of the Supreme Court of Ohio, previously referred to, had been rendered. It was whether under that decision the Ohio stockholders would be compelled to list their stock in that State for taxation. If they were, it would force the stockholders to relinquish their stock, which would be alike prejudicial to their interest and a loss to the State. Legal gentlemen had been consulted, and the opinion expressed by them was that the affirmative view of the question was untenable. The State would tax the property of the Company as heretofore, and if the stockholders were compelled to pay taxes on their stock they would be paying twice on the same property. He thought, therefore, that the Ohio stockholders would not be required to list their stock in that State.

Better progress had been made in bringing the legal business of the company, pending at the time of the lease, to a termination. Two or three suits had been closed, but many new ones, some more important than others concluded, had been terminated.

There had been paid during the year, of old debts, a little less than $150,000, the main item of which sum was the amount due to the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road on a contract for a division of receipts.

The President then referred to the effect of the past winter on railroads and machinery, and remarked that the past four months were the most severe ever experienced since railroads were first operated in this country. The Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway had met the fate of other roads, the track having been injured and the machinery impaired. The lessees promise that as soon as the weather will permit the track will be put in first-class condition and the machinery restored. Reference was then made to the extraordinarily large amount of business which had been and is being thrown upon railroads the necessity of providing additional facilities in the way of tracks, sidings and equipment in order to accommodate the business offered. The lessees of the road recognizing this necessity had asked authority to construct a double track along the entire length of the road. The request had not yet been acted upon by the Board, but would be at an early day. The President concluded by stating that the points referred to embrace all that would be alluded to in the written report, although they would be given more in detail.

After the report had been submitted, a resolution was adopted that the election of three directors be proceeded with. The election was by ballot, and resulted in the selection of the following gentlemen, who will serve for the ensuing four years: Wm. B. Ogden, of Chicago; Jesse L. Williams, Fort Wayne; Louis H. Myer, New York.

General Geo. W. Cass was continued as President, and F. M. Hutchinson, Esq., as Secretary and Treasurer of the Company.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Pan Handle, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway was held at the Company's office on North street, Steubenville, Tuesday.

The first business to be transacted after receiving the annual report of the Board of Directors was to vote on the ratification of the lease of the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley Railroad, as authorized by the Stockholders at their meeting held December 30th, 1871. The vote showed 135,841 shares of stock cast in favor of the ratification and one against, so the lease was declared ratified.

The next thing in order was the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, when the following persons were unanimously chosen: Thomas A. Scott, George B. Roberts, Josiah Bacon, H. H. Houston, Thomas L. Jewett, Wm. Thaw, J. N. McCullough, Wm. Phillips, Robert Sherrard, Jr., D. S. Gray, Geo. W. Adams, Rollin C. Hurd and Alfred Gaither.

The members of the Board present were immediately qualified, and, the vote by ballot being dispensed with, organized by the election of the following officers: President, Thomas A. Scott; Vice President, Wm. Thaw; Secretary, W. H. Barnes; Assistant Secretary, John G. Morris.

After filling some vacancies in the Standing Committees the Board adjourned sine die.

RUPTURE.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable Truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done. This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the expense of the person's life. Rupture is too serious an injury to be treated with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr. Keyser always has on hand.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

SECRETS OF BEAUTY.

Beauty is a gift bestowed on woman, with which to gladden the heart and eye of man. Have not poets sung it from olden times? Do they not sing it still? Then be careful of it you who possess the happy boon. Beauty may be in the hair, the eye, the hand—but more than all the complexion. With a soft, peachlike complexion, a woman is always lovely, and this may be preserved till a good old age with very little trouble; to a great extent it can be acquired, and it can always be improved. The secret is, keep the blood pure. Should pimples, blotches or eruptions of any kind appear on the skin, avoid external applications; for, remember, the trouble is in the blood. Purify it then by using the Samaritan's Root and Herb Juices, and be among the number of those who are asked where they got those rosy cheeks. Price, $1.25 per bottle.

☞ATTENTION CAPITALISTS!
FOR A PERMANENT PAYING INVESTMENT
SUBSCRIBE TO THE CAPITAL STOCK OF THE
U. S. Iron and Tin Plate Co.,
Chartered by the State of Pennsylvania.
Capital Stock $400,000. Shares $100 Each.

Tinners, capitalists and all persons seeking a SAFE INVESTMENT for surplus means, are invited to investigate the present status of this company, and the tangible and undisputed basis upon which its Board of Directors assume that the stock will pay a dividend of 40 PER CENT. annually!

Not a box of tin or terne plate has ever been made in the United States, while 75 per cent. of all the plates made in England are imported to this country. In 1872, 2,364,684 boxes of tin plates were imported; and for two weeks of 1873, ending Jan. 25, there were imported 17,181 boxes.

A Birmingham (England) paper says: "Of our total shipments of tin plates the United States absorbs nearly 75 per cent.—the quantity last year showing a trifling increase compared with 1871. We understand that this manufacture is now being undertaken in America, and some of the trade will, therefore, be lost to us."

The company has purchased land for the works near McKeesport, Pa., on the Monongahela river, and in the heart of the coal and coke region, and will have railroad and river transportation to all parts of the country; also, the letters patent of Wm. O. Davies for coating plates, which patent gives this company 25 per cent. advantage over any competing manufactory of tin plate that may be established.

Stock books are now open at the Wylie Avenue Savings' Bank, and "Iron World" office, Pittsburgh; and Allegheny Homestead Bank, 244 Beaver avenue, Allegheny City.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 19, 1873.

The attention of our readers is called to the fact that last week $10,000 in Government bonds of the 10-40 series, numbers 7,696 and 7,797 were stolen from a banking house in New York. The negotiation of the securities has been stopped. We caution all our readers against the purchase of Government securities from strangers, as there are many stolen bonds in circulation, which are worthless to the purchaser.

The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund of the Commonwealth give notice, through the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, to holders of the first series of six per cent. State loan to the amount of $5,000 and under, that they will cease to bear interest on the 31st day of July next, when said loan and accrued interest will be redeemed on presentation at the said bank in this city.

Money to-day was easy among most of the banks, though some have their balances well invested. First class business paper, of well-known names, is more in demand than it has been for some time past, and there seems to be plenty of money for first class paper. Banks are accommodating their customers at 8 to 9 per cent., while good outside paper is taken at 10@12 per cent. We are glad to note this returning ease in the market, because it indicates a more healthy tone in financial circles, and shows a so that confidence, sadly shaken by late events, is again returning. As this ease continues and increases we may hope to see every branch of business being revived and a new impetus be given to all our manufacturing and commercial interests.

It is a pity that the Legislature has not at this session given relief to our people by repealing our present unjust usury laws. This reform is now thrown back for another year, and for so much longer must all our moneyed interests suffer. There is neither reason nor justice in limiting by law the price of money—no more reason in it than there would be in fixing by law the price of wheat or flour. We are glad to see the press throughout the State keeping up the agitation, and we trust that by next year our legislators will see the utter folly of our present usury law.

There was not much movement to-day in Government bonds, and prices did not vary widely. The latest quotations of Government bonds reported by Luther S. Kauffman, Stock and Note Broker, 116 Smithfield street, are as follows:

In local stocks there was not much doing to-day, only a few stocks changing hands at slight concessions from former figures. Persons holding or intending to purchase any of our local stocks are requested to examine our Saturday quotations in this column as giving the fullest and most reliable information concerning all our stocks.

In the New York stock market to-day prices have tended towards lower figures, though the decline was but slight. The forgery of Wabash, Pittsburgh and Fort Wayne stock discovered on Monday has not had much effect on the market, the amount involved being less than $5,000. The most hopeful stock on the list seems to be St. Paul, which bids fair to make a rapid advance, especially if they gain the valuable land grant for which they are contending. Erie is weak under the threatened investigation.

Gold to-day is strong, closing at an advance of one quarter over opening figures. Anticipated heavy imports this week is one of the assigned reasons for the steadiness in the price of gold.

The Tennessee Legislature has passed a bill to fund the past due interest on the State bonded debt and interest accruing up to and including January, 1874.

NEW YORK, March 19, 1873.

Money was stringent at 1-32 to 1-16 and interest, closing at the latter rate. Sterling quiet and steady; 108@108¾. Gold strong at 115¼@115½, closing at 115⅝@115¾. Loans 4@7 per cent. gold for carrying. Clearances $35,000,000. Exports $324,786 in silver bars. Treasury disbursements $54,000. Governments steady. State bonds were very dull. Stocks were irregular, unsettled and very dull. New York Central, Pacific Mail, Western Union, St. Paul and Lake Shore have been generally firm, while Hartford & Erie declined 1½ per cent., Erie ¾ per cent., and the rest of the market was dull and heavy.

EGGS—Continue in light supply, and with a steady demand prices are firmer but unchanged; quotations may be fairly given at 24@25.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $7.50@8 for fair to good Wisconsin's $8.25 for choice Minnesotas, and $8.50@9.00 for good to choice red winter wheat—there has been a decline in this market of fully 50 cents per barrel within the past 30 days. Rye Flour, 5.50@5.75.

GRAIN—Trade continues very quiet, and the market in a general way presents but little that is really new or important. Wheat is still quotable at $1.75@1.80 for prime red, and $1.85@1.90 for white; millers complain that while flour has declined from 50 to 75c per brl, they have not as yet been able to obtain the raw material any cheaper. Oats continue quiet but prices are without quotable change, 43@45c for good mixed to prime white. Shelled Corn weaker, though prices remain as last quoted 48@49c on track, and 50@51c free in elevator. Ear Corn in consequence of a temporary scarcity, is firmer with sales reported at 52@53c. Rye is still quotable at 85@90—but little offering, and not much inquiry for it. Barley is exceedingly dull and may be quoted nominally at 85@90c for spring, and 95@$1 for fall.

GROCERIES—Trade is fair and improving slowly, though it is not as good as it should be, and usually is at this particular time. Sugars, especially refined goods, are reported firmer, and the feeling is gaining ground that the lowest notch has been touched. Rio Coffee continues dull and weak; we understand a cargo of 2,300 bags good Rio was sold at New York at 18¾c gold, which establishes a decline of 1¼@1½c since about the first of the current month.

SYRUPS—White Drips, 70; other grades ranging from 65 to 40, as to quality.

HONEY—Is quoted at 35 to 40c per lb.

OIL—Lard Oil is firmer and higher in sympathy with the raw material; No. 1 extra quoted at 72@75c.

POTATOES—In light supply and firmer but prices are not quotably higher, ranging from 80@85 cents per bushel, according to quality.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, March 19, 1873.

CATTLE.

The sales up until noon to-day footed up 765 head against 624 head same time last week. With continued light receipts the market is steady, and while trade is all that can be expected under existing circumstances and surroundings, it is not active, and operators generally, pronounce it unsatisfactory; shippers, generally, we refer to those who buy here for shipment to Philadelphia and New York, have not been doing much good of late, hence, while they are still buying because it is their business, and because they have a trade that they must keep up, and while it is nothing more than right and proper that they should be obliged to take bad along with the good, yet they do not take hold with the same vim that they do when they are able to make it pay. The fact that the arrivals continue light and the offerings, in consequence, small, enables sellers to hold up prices, and from all that we can learn, cattle are bringing all they are worth, taking the eastern markets as a basis. The average quality continues common, the great proportion consisting of common to medium; hence, prime shipping stock is scarce, and as it is most sought after sells more readily and at relatively better prices than the lower grades. So far as we could learn, there was nothing sold up until noon to-day above 6¾ cents yet, prime to extra steers, weighing, 1,400 to 1,500, fat and smooth, would have sold readily at 6¾ to 7 cents, perhaps an eighth more. Sales of 59 coarse, 1,450 Illinois steers, at 6¼; 50 from same, weighing 1,300 pounds at 6.20; 15 averaging about 1,400 at 6⅜; 35 averaging 1,050 at 5¾; 32 averaging 1,050 at 5.40, and 51 averaging 1,270 at 6¼; 10 oxen averaging 1,429 lbs. at 5¾.

SHEEP.

The arrivals thus far have been light, and the indications are that they will continue so during the balance of the week; the supply, however, has been fully up to the demand, and the market may be termed quiet at about last week's prices—it is devoid of animation, and the general indications point to a continued weakness, although some of our most observant operators are disposed to think that the lowest notch has been reached for the present at least. It is worthy of notice that the great proportion of the arrivals here for several weeks has been from the west—the receipts from Ohio and Penna have been unusually light, and it may be attributed to the fact that both dealers and producers are unwilling to sell at the prices. We were reliably informed that there have been several bunches of good sheep sold here this week at about 6¾ that cost 7 at home, entailing a heavy loss on the owner—in addition to half a cent below cost, he loses freight, expenses and shrinkage, amounting to probably one hundred dollars and upward of a loss per car.

There were three lots of clipped sheep here this week the first of the season—2 cars of good 87 lb from Ohio at 4.10, and 1 car fine wool from Washington Co. Pa. at 4c—very low figures but it was all they would bring, buyers being afraid to ship them east for fear of the weather turning cold. Wooled, 2 cars mixed wool Illinois, 77 lbs, at 5.20; 1 do coarse wool 81 lbs, at 5.15; 1 do Ohio, fine wool 102, 6.70; 1 do 99 lbs, 6.40; 1 do coarse wool 104 lbs, at 6.10; 1 do fine wool 100 lbs, at 6¾; 2 do, medium wool, 96 lbs, at 6; 1 do medium 79 lbs, 5½; 2 cars fair medium, 85 lbs, 5¼.

HOGS.

The market was weaker, especially for Philadelphia hogs caused by increased receipts and a diminished demand, and prices, as compared with the close of last week, have dropped from 20@25c per cwt; sales were reported to-day at at 5.60@5.80, as to quality. Yorkers have undergone little or no change for some days, ranging from 5.20@5.40. The eastern demand for both grades is not as brisk as it was at this time last week.

Foreign Iron Markets.

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 27.—Iron was considerably firmer at to-day's market than it was last week. Pigs were advanced from 2s 6d@7s 6d, and cold blast pigs were quoted as high as £9. All mine hot blast pigs of best quality had advanced to £7 12s 6d. Cinder pig was 78 6d. This further rise is almost entirely due to the prices and scarcity of coal. The increase in the colliers' wages, has as was feared, tended to diminish the output of coal, and as a rule the men are not working more than half the time. Their wages are now about 9s per day. There are no stocks of coal either at the collieries or at the iron works, and never were there so many trucks and boats waiting to be loaded. The advance in prices of iron has checked new orders, which have not been numerous during the week. All kinds of finished iron are stiffer in price. Sheets are in very strong demand, and some of the best houses ask as much as £19 5s@£19 15s for singles. The best brands of bar iron are now firm at £14 2s 6d. for Earl Dudley's make, and £14 for B. B. H. and similar brands.

WOLVERHAMPTON, Feb. 28.—The iron trade has again become very excited. Unprecedented prices for this season of the year are being demanded to-day, and first class houses are declining to accept orders unless at the prices that may prevail next quarter-day, weeks hence. To-night the iron-merchants here are issuing circulars dated to-morrow, in which they advance bars, rods, and hoops 20s, and sheets as much as 40s, per ton. They will not bind themselves to even these rates for long. Similar advances were made a fortnight ago.

LONDON, Feb. 28—The London News of the 1st inst. says: Notwithstanding the price of coal in London is again reduced by about four shillings a ton, Bolton coal merchants yesterday announce another advance of 4s 2d on house coal to come into force. At Sheffield and the surrounding districts the rise was in most cases 2s per ton, but in others 4s. To-day Dean Forest coals will be advanced a further 5 per cent. making at least 125 per cent above the maximum prior to the end of the year 1872. The colliery proprietors at Wigan resolved to offer an advance of 10 per cent. The men asked 15. Circulars have just been issued to colliery owners and managers throughout South Yorkshire and North Derbyshire demanding an advance of 20 per cent on the wages of surface men at the various pits. The demand is made on behalf of the South Yorkshire Operatives Association, and is asked to be paid on the 8th of March, the same day as the advance demanded by the miners. A strong feeling is manifested by the colliery owners of the West Riding of Yorkshire against the demand for an advance of 20 per cent on wages. At a meeting at Leeds to-day the coalowners appointed a deputation to confer with the men on Monday, with the view of making an arrangement. It is believed that if the demand is refused a strike will take place.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, March 19, 1873.

The crude market was reported firmer, and as compared with yesterday, prices were higher; $2@2.05 per barrel at Parker for certificates, and $2.07½@2.10 free on cars—it was offered at the outside quotation, $2.10. Refined continues quiet and unchanged; Philadelphia delivery, March 17¾@18; April, last half 18¾; May, last half, 19¾—no sales reported. Pittsburgh delivery, 14¾ free on cars at works, to go east, and 15 for western shipment. It is hoped that the export trade will soon commence to pick up again, although this can scarcely be expected as long as vessels continue scarce and ocean freights keep up.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with 19⅝ feet in the channel. Weather clear and pleasant during the day, but last evening it was cloudy, with indications favorable for rain. Business at the landing fair.

The arrivals include the Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling, R. W. Skillinger, from Cincinnati, and the towboats Hercules and J. S. McDonald.

It is reported that the sale of the Julia No. 2 was consummated on Tuesday prior to her departure for Zanesville, and the probability is that she will not return to this port. J. W. Reynolds, of Charleston, West Virginia, is the purchaser, and $8,500 the price.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: The present freight rate on corn from St. Louis to New Orleans by river is 15 cents per bushel, and the average rate is 10 cents. By rail from St Louis to Boston, which is about the same distance, the rate is 40 cents per bushel. This is one of the strongest arguments in favor of water transportation that can be offered, and comment is unnecessary. If coal could be sold at reduced prices, at the supply depots between Cairo and New Orleans, the expenses of running tow-boats and steamers would be greatly decreased, and freights would be even less than 10 cents per bu. The present high rates of fuel, added to the difficulties of navigation, render it essential to keep up the prices of freights beyond what they will range at a time when river obstacles are removed and coal is lower.

—The Vicksburg Herald, learns from Capt Sam Whyte that the Economist sank in Bayou Bartholomew on Monday last and will prove a total loss. She had a cargo of 500 bales of cotton most of which will be saved. The Economist was owned by Capt. Whyte, and was about four years old. The boat was valued at $10,000 and was insured for $2,500.

—The Sioux City Journal of the 14th says: Coulson intends to give employment to some 8 or 10 boats this season, and Durfee & Peck are also expecting to find work for all their boats on the Upper Missouri, all of which indicates a lively business during the boating season of '73.

—Capt. James Kerr Jr. was released from his trouble at St. Louis the other day, by Captain W. J. Kountz refusing to prosecute him.

No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, it is curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.

LOCAL OPTION.

Alleged Reasons Against Local Option Answered.

To the Electors of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, and Allegheny Cities.

During the discussion of this question of prohibiting the licensed sale of alcoholic liquor, many alleged reasons have been offered, by interested liquor traffickers, in support of continuing the licensing system, and against "Local Option," and in the decision under it prohibiting the common sale of intoxicating drinks. Every one of their allegations have been again and again refuted; but, like defenders of evil, they keep asserting the same fallacies day after day, hoping thereby to "deceive many." We shall proceed here to answer a few of the prominent objections fallaciously raised to Local Option.

Individual Liberty.

First.—It is said, the prohibition of license will be interfering with men's individual liberties. How can this be so? No man has any liberty, at present, to sell intoxicating drinks in the State of Pennsylvania. A few have obtained leave to sell drinks, "for one year only," subject, at the termination of one year, not to get that leave renewed. The refusal to renew, can, therefore, deprive no individual of any liberty.

It is Saying What a Man shall Eat and Drink

Second—Some object that Local Option is a sumptuary law, which goes to say what a man shall eat and drink. This is wholly incorrect. It does not partake in any sense of the nature of a sumptuary law. It does not propose to enter any man's home and regulate what he shall expend on food and clothing, which all sumptuary laws did. It does not propose to interfere in any form with what any man shall eat or drink. It only proposes to interfere with what certain men shall sell. This laws do already in many instances. The law says no man shall sell diseased fowl, fish, beef, mutton, pork, bacon, &c. The law does not say no man shall eat these. It only interferes with the selling of them. The laws against obscene pictures and books; against gambling, &c., are all of this class. They do not say that no man shall gamble; they do not say that no man, if even so depraved, shall not have obscene pictures and books. What the laws do say is—No man shall open a gambling house to tempt others to their ruin and his gain; no man shall sell for his profit and the demoralization of society obscene books and pictures. On the very same ground it becomes equally just and reasonable and equitable for the law to say—No man shall be at liberty to sell intoxicating drinks amongst the people to produce "poverty, crime and domestic wretchedness." This is not interfering with what any man shall eat or drink.

The Rights of Majorities and Minorities.

Third—It is alleged that "The majority has no right even, to say to the minority where they shall not be able to buy their drinks." The majority has, however, always said that, in one form or another, in Pennsylvania. The licensing authorities have always said where drink should and should not be sold. But beyond all this, the majority have a perfect right, as taxpayers, to deal with everything that increases their burthen of taxation. The Licensed Liquor Traffic does this. The majority have, therefore, an inalienable right to say to the minority, we shall no longer tolerate amongst us, for even your indulgence, a business which overpowers us with its evil fruits of intemperance, poverty, pauperism, crime, lunacy, sudden deaths and the heavy taxes necessitated by these. If the minority could continue and perpetuate these evils, then it is they, and not the majority, who would be ruling the State and levying taxes on the citizens, thereby committing the grossest tyranny and oppression.

Destroying Property.

Fourth—It is said that to vote "against license" will destroy a vast amount of property invested in breweries, distilleries, &c. Wherever the common good is concerned in any civilized community, the injury to individuals is never taken into account. When famine threatened Ireland in 1812 and 1813, an act of Parliament was passed and stopped all the distilleries for the two years, so as to save the grain for bread. The country was saved from want and a famine, but the distilleries were injured. In 1821 and 1822 the same course was again repeated, and with the same excellent results. If the same had been done, at Father Mathew's request, in 1846 to 1848, no one would have heard of the first famine of these years. Where the immense good to be accomplished for humanity and the interests of society far outweigh any injury that property may sustain, the latter must not be considered. The cry of the liquor traffickers about their property, is just the old cry of the slave owner of America; of the landlords of Great Britain and Ireland, when it was proposed to do justice to their doomed slaves and serfs. "Our property is endangered by your agitation for emancipation!!!" "Our property will be ruined by your agitation about tenant right for the working farmers!!!" And now the landlords of the vat and of the still just raise the same cry and from the self same motive—pure selfishness. But no one is going to destroy any property in this matter. The distilleries and breweries can readily be turned into cotton factories, or other useful and beneficial purposes. The wages now paid to a few "hands" in these distilleries and breweries will be quadrupled in amount when the concerns are appropriated to these other purposes. The licensed liquor saloons depreciate the value of the property in any street, or ward, in which they prevail. As soon as there are no licensed houses, all the property in such streets and wards will rapidly increase in value; Local Option will, therefore, greatly increase the value of property instead of injuring any of it.

It will Deprive the Revenue of a Large Amount Annually.

Fifth—The Liquor Men's Advocate attempts to raise a cry that prohibition of the sale of intoxicants will be robbing the National Revenue. How it makes this appear we never could see. The people of the United States squandered last year over $800,000,000 in intoxicating drinks. The revenue derived a paltry $26,000,000 from the transaction. If the $800,000,000 had been spent in purchasing woolen goods, cotton goods, silks, hats, bonnets, ribbons, &c., as it would have been if these licensed houses did not exist, then the National Revenue would have derived $100,000,000, of duty out of the $800,000,000 expended on useful articles, while the revenue only got $26,000,000 off the drink traffic, out of an expenditure of $800,000,000. The Emperor of China well said, in reference to a proposal to tax opium entering China, "I shall never replenish my revenue from the vices of my people." And even, this moral consideration alone ought to settle the question of liquor duties in America. But the truth is, as already proved, that the liquor traffic is the cause of enormous loss to the National Revenue.

The Distilleries are a Good Market for Grain.

Sixth.—It is sometimes urged that the breweries and distilleries present a good market for grain. There is no market for anything beyond the purchasing power of the people's means. The mass of the people spend all they earn. If five dollars be spent in alcoholic liquor the farmer gets about fifty cents out of the amount for his grain, and the brewers, distillers, wholesale dealer, retailers, inland revenue, &c., receive four dollars and fifty cents of it. If five dollars be spent on beef, mutton, fowl, flour, potatoes, butter, eggs, milk, &c., the farmer gets about four dollars out of the amount and the retailer or broker about one dollar. The breweries and distilleries are therefore the very worst possible market for the farmers. They only destroy the farmer's best customers, the working men's families, who ought to and would be the largest consumers of the farm producers, if the wages of the workingmen did not find their way to the brewers' and distillers' bank accounts, instead of in procuring home comforts for their wives and children.

The Law Does not Thus Interfere With any Other Business.

Seventh—It has been repeatedly objected that the law does not interfere with any other business. If that were even so—which it is not—the law has the right to interfere with the liquor traffic, because it is a bad business; engaged as the Twelve Apostles of the traffic admit themselves in "bad work." But the law does prohibit a hundred and one things in this and every civilized State. Every citizen of the United States is prohibited from setting up a gambling den to tempt his neighbors to waste their money. Every citizen is prohibited from selling diseased food, lest he might injure the health of the people. The laws do interfere with other traffics. This cursed liquor traffic is worse than all of them put together, consequently the right to interfere with it is perfectly just and equitable.

Don't Prohibit the Entire Business, but put it into Respectable Hands.

Eight.—The cry to commute the sentence of prohibition to that of confining the traffic to "respectable hands," is very foolish. It would be a pity to spoil respectable men by putting them in the traffic. The evil tendency of it is to harden the hearts of the best of men, and to "sear their consciences as with a hot iron." A few years managing a bar-room renders any man perfectly callous to the untold miseries which the traffic produces. Besides, no man's "respectability" has aught to do with counteracting the influence of alcohol on the human system. A respectable man behind the bar does not dispense an ounce of his "respectability" as an antidote with each glass of whisky, rum, brandy, or gin. Intoxicating drinks sold by a saint just make drunk as fast as if sold by the vilest sinner.

The Prohibitory Laws are all Failures.

Ninth.—It is objected that prohibitory laws always proven failures, and that more drink is sold clandestinely where they exist and more drunkenness produced than under license laws. If this were so, is it not exceedingly strange how it is Temperance men want to promote drinking and drunkenness, according to this "story?" The truth is, that all experience has found the reverse of this assertion. There is little or no intemperance in Maine; not even in its cities. The same is true of Massachusetts, except Boston and another city, in which there has never been any trial of the law. Chief Justice Read has put the case of Boston unfairly and incorrectly. The prohibitory law was never attempted to be tried in Boston. And, that law is not a Local Option law. The difference between the two, Justice Read ought to have recognized. Under "Local Option" one city may vote "for license," and another "against license," and both will be obeying the law. This is not so in Massachusetts; and, only because of this does Boston merely appear to be disobeying the law. With Local Option in Massachusetts, Justice Read could not have alluded to Boston at all, as he has done; it only does practically what Reading has done by vote—say it must have liquor saloons. But the State of Massachusetts granted the power last year to the people to vote lager beer licenses only. Some towns and cities did so and the evil fruits springing from one year's license of lager beer has been so great that the Legislature of Massachusetts is about repealing even that permission. This proves what the people of Massachusetts think of the value of prohibition. The Brooklyn Eagle, writing on the failure of the law to convict for murder, said: "It was not the law that failed; it was the police and courts that failed to enforce the law." So in the case of prohibition of the licensed liquor traffic. It is not the law that can possibly fail; it can only be the police and courts neglecting to enforce the law.

If it is Prohibited in One Place it will be only Driven to Another.

Tenth—This is the usual cry with many. If you prohibit licensed houses by the votes of the people in one city, you will only drive the whole business to an adjoining city, where the voters do not prohibit licenses. Well, if it be a good trade, surely the city which gets it all will be immensely benefited!!! Now, does not this, practically, amount to saying, the liquor traffic is so mischievous that it will destroy any city in which it becomes concentrated. Well, this being so, let every city look to its own interests in the matter. If one city, or county, sweeps its own borders clean, no other, that neglected to do the same, has any right to afterwards grumble about the injury done them by the concentration of so vile a traffic in their midst. Let every place sweep before their own doors in this business with the new patent sweeping machine, fresh from Harrisburg, trade mark—"Local Option." The sweeping is to be all done FRIDAY, March 21st, and it ought to be well done.

We have now offered replies to ten objections to Local Option. We believe we have fairly met and refuted these assertions. We ask all who think so to vote on Friday "against license."

LOCAL OPTION HEADQUARTERS, CORNER OF PENN AND SIXTH STREET.
MARCH, 19, 1873.

LOCAL OPTION!

The Voice of Many Voters—To the Twelve Distillers, Brewers and Wholesale Dealers.

GENTLEMEN: An address to the voters of Allegheny county, which recently emanated from the Local Option Headquarters, was really an answer to your appeal, and it is highly satisfactory to the friends of Temperance. There are, however, a few additional statements demanded by your appeal, and these we prefer to address directly to you, and to those interested in the same traffic.

You tell us that this trade has been legalized by us—that great multitudes of men are employed in it—that vast sums of money have been expended in buildings—that the time is too short to dispose of your stock on hand—that many will be rendered bankrupt, and in view of this you call upon us to vote for license.

We disclaim all unkind feeling toward you. We desire to promote your true and substantial welfare. But, we plainly tell you that we will do no such thing, and our refusal is based on grounds like these:

1st. It is too true that your trade has been built up under the protection of law. But the license law has, from the beginning, been very offensive to multitudes of our most intelligent, upright and influential citizens. It has been denounced as an unrighteous law, in the pulpit, on the platform, and in the public prints. You have known that the people in all parts of the State were restive under it, and that they were working to secure, if possible, some better legislation. You knew that a more stringent law might come at any time.

2d. The legal protection which has been afforded to you is a privilege. But the abuses of this privilege by you have been frequent and monstrous. Mr. Wm. B. Ross, who has pressed to a successful issue no less than one hundred and thirty cases against licensed dealers, has stated, in a recent public meeting that, through no effort on his part, he has had evidence sufficient to convict almost every licensed dealer in Allegheny. It is almost certain that any one of them could be convicted as many times as there are weeks in a year. If license is a privilege, then the people should withdraw a privilege which has been thus abused.

3d. The Local Option law was enacted eleven months ago. Like our merchants dealing in oil, cotton, sugar, iron, &c., you should have studied the possible vicissitudes of trade. You had all the elements before you on which to make a sagacious conjecture as to the result of the anticipated vote. If you are not prepared for it the fault is all your own.

4th. The most damaging uncertainty in this contest has been occasioned by yourselves. You tampered with the Legislature. You have raised large sums of money to be used in arresting the legislation for which we prayed. You supposed you were safe, and hence your consternation now. It is with a bad grace that you now turn and ask us to deliver you from the liabilities to which you are now exposed, by your own wicked effort to deprive Allegheny county of her right to vote.

5th. The request you make of us is unreasonable and extravagant. You tell us that the time is too short, &c., and that, therefore, we should do what? Give an extension of time? No. Make a generous contribution to cover your losses? No. But you want that because the time is short, we should make the law a nullity. You wish us to have the election go by default. This is asking too much and we will not grant it.

6th. If you had three, six or nine years to arrange your business and sell your stock, the result would be the same. In 1876 you could not know what the popular decree would be, until a vote were had, and then again it would be quite impracticable to settle up before the succeeding April. The truth is that your plea is but an artful effort to arouse the sympathies of honest and conscientious voters.

7th. On the principle of justice, you have no claim on us. On the contrary JUSTICE requires every voter to go against license.

You tell us how much has been invested in this trade, a very small part of which will be lost. But we have have lost during the last year through your traffic $656,716, and when we go back over ten or fifteen years and aggregate our losses, the figures are simply frightful. And in all this estimate there is no allowance for the depreciation in property where licensed houses have been established near it—none for irreparable damage done to the bodies and souls of men.

You ought in justice to support our Work House, Refuge and Penitentiary for several years to come. The Gospel, of which you have much to say, requires us "to bear one anothers' burdens." We have been bearing your burdens for many years, and now you should cease this traffic, and bear our burdens of taxation. This would be law and Gospel as well. And yet, we do not ask for it. We simply wish to show you that if there are losses in the operation of the law, you should meet them like men, and remember that we have to do the same.

8th. If "No license" should carry in Pittsburgh, many of us are ready to contribute generously, we might say magnanimously, for the relief of any loss or suffering which may unavoidably occur in the operation of the law. We are even willing to repeat the giving many times, rather than violate our consciences by encouraging a traffic, which we believe to be sinful.

But should we fail on Friday, we hereby give you notice, that in three years from this time we propose to terminate the traffic in Pittsburgh. For this we will perseveringly labor, and our victory will be worthy that Centennial year, so reviving of precious memories. We trust that with this seasonable notice, we shall not then be met with this same plea, that you have no time to dispose of stock on hand. Yours, etc.

Temperance Reform

Another Letter from Father Hickey on the Temperance Question.

TO THE EDITORS: Within the last few days our attention has been specially invited to the fact that the secondary or side issues of the temperance movement are assuming such a weighty significance in the adjustment of this moral question as to create no little alarm in our community. It would now seem, it is said, that our campaign is less in favor of temperance, and more and more clamorous for local option, prohibition and non-license. Our people are divided. Some assert, and truly, that temperance is one thing, and total abstinence or prohibition another. Others, again, try to support and defend the former by the stern enforcement of the latter. There is, accordingly and necessarily, a confliction of interests. The edifice of public opinion is divided, and of course cannot stand. Each interested party is stirring for the mastery—the Local Optionists on one hand and the liquor merchants on the other. Every hour the battle rages more and more fiercely, and by next Friday evening will, it is feared, end very disastrously. Much bitterness of sentiment is, and will be, engendered, much harm done to the noblest of Christian causes, and little local or abiding good, if any at all, accomplished. For it must be remembered that we are all brothers, fellow-citizens and worshippers of the same Supreme Being. Of His divine will and that we are each and all of us only the stewards and responsible moral agents. Hence in the advocacy of any cause, moral principle or virtue, the divine moral law must be our chief basis of action. Having solely in view the "greatest good of the greatest number," we must be just, prudent and reasonable in our demands, and TEMPERATE in all our arguments and in every defense, even of truth and right. Under each and every circumstance it is our bounden duty "to do unto others as we would wish they should do unto us." This, we believe, is one of the standard rules of Christian and public morality. No one may return evil for evil; nor are we allowed to do evil to our neighbor in his person, life, property or legitimate busines, that good may come from it.

This much premised, it is easy to see the spirit that actuates, to some extent at least, the present movement. To our mind it has taken a "new departure;" it has assumed, of late, the phase more of a political than of a moral agitation. Its action now is not only aggressive, but, alas! even painfully oppressive. If we understand aright, what we read in the daily press, an attempt is being made to enforce the practice of temperance on our community by the enactment of penal and compulsory laws. This we consider a novel as well as an unjustifiable application to us of an old remedy. We are going too far on the point, and do too much. As we stated in our letter to the Temperance Mass Meeting convened in City Hall on the evening of the 27th ult.—we are not extremists or radicals in our views or principles. We repeat again: "In medio stat virtus." With local option, prohibition, or non-license—or, in other words, with the political side of the temperance question, we have nothing to do. It does not concern us, except, perhaps, very remotely. We endorsed the movement purely and simply as a temperance movement, and will continue to do so as long as we live. As such it meets our fullest approbation, and that of all our best men. We must be consistent, conservative and just. At present all collateral or political issues are foreign to our cause. From our pulpits we are taught to preach the Gospel and IT along. We dare not, even if we could, insist on the observance of the moral law of temperance, by the exercise of INTEMPERATE speech, INTEMPERATE writing, and least of all, by INTEMPERATE legislation. From our standpoint the moral virtues do not demand the secular power to propagate or sustain this influence. We are not Mahommedans, we are Christians.

Accordingly, we should be ready and willing to grant to others whatever of privileges we ourselves enjoy. We cannot hope to make men sober against their will, nor legislate their way even to Heaven without their most active cooperation and manly consent. The divine and moral laws everywhere teach this doctrine. Temperance is not promoted by intemperance of speech or action, or legislation toward or for our neighbor. "Many wrongs will never make one right." It is needless to expect a man to espouse our cause, if we abuse or injure him; or to make a man moral or religious by disfranchising him of his liberty as a citizen—his liberty as a Christian or of his liberty to trade, buy or sell, as an honest member of a mercantile community. Persecution under any form is always odious, and still more so, if gotten up wantonly against a certain class of persons in their own city, county or State. Our religious zeal ought never to run so far counter to reason and our instinctive sense of justice as to endanger, if not entirely ruin as a people, any part of our long and legally established commercial or other interests. We need the aid and presence of all our legitimate business men, since no legitimate business is or can be an evil.

This much we write hastily, but out of a sense of duty and justice. We are not partizan in our feelings, nor do we wish to be so understood in our writings. In this contest we do not belong to any party politic, nor can we represent or defend the biased prejudice or limited interests of any clique or sect. Our first letter was altogether in favor of temperance, and so also is this, our second. We undoubtedly may, and do differ, with some few of our friends, about the mode or means of the moral reform inaugurated. But in these matters every one has a right to his own opinion. There is one point, and a very important one, too, on which, however, we all agree; and that is, that in our day the practice of temperance is a necessity, and we must use our very best effort in its promotion.

To conclude, then, we may here and that after the most careful study, we cannot find any other means to further our movement successfully than those suggested in our first letter. We do not really need any new legislation to help us out of our troubles, or effect the good we have so much at heart. Our great municipal sin is that we have too many laws already. Those good, but obsolete old laws, them let us enforce and obey, and all will go well with us as temperance men. Give us a healthy, restrictive license law, and if the present licentiate system be deemed insufficient to guard the interests of our people, let it be revised so far as to meet their wants. Besides this, the entire Christian ministry, with the orators, and leaders of our religious societies and unions, should rise up as one man, and by their moral suasion—their pen—their word, and example, proclaim aloud their mighty mission to the nation. This union of action supported, as with us Catholics, by sacramental grace, would effect, in due time, such a reformation in morals, as would astonish all other organizations of the world. Very respectfully,

JOHN HICKEY.

RALLY, TEMPERANCE MEN.

BY J. N. SHEPHARD.

Tune—Bonny Blue Flag.

Arouse! arouse! ye temperance men!
Arouse ye one and all!
Come rally around the temperance flag
Against King Alcohol.
Arouse! arouse! arouse, ye one and all,
Against Rum License; come and vote
And kill old Alcohol.

From north and south, from east and west,
We charge you one and all:
Come fight the cause of temperance
Against King Alcohol.
CHORUS.

From wretched homes and breaking hearts,
Comes up the plaintive call—
O, crush this monster from the earth,
This vile King Alcohol.
CHORUS.

Ye wives and mothers, far and near,
Roll on this temperance ball;
You cannot vote, but you can pray,
Against King Alcohol.
CHORUS.

Your tears and prayers God sees and hears,
He will not let them fall
Regardless, in this mighty war,
Against King Alcohol.
CHORUS.

As King he's reigned quite long enough—
Then, rouse ye to the call,
And rally around the temperance flag
Against King Alcohol.
CHORUS.

LOCAL OPTION.

Darkly gather now the leagues of evil
In council, to enslave this commonwealth,
Lo, Gambrinus, Bacchus, Man, and Devil
Conspire to strike anew our peace and health.

Shall despots loudly call for liberty
And prate about the loss of revenue
Freedom seeks to elevate Humanity
Rum, long has cursed the state and people too.

Give us remuneration for our loss;
Our occupation's gone, cry they, what then!
Is there no good save filthy lucre, dross.
Leave the devil's employment and be men.

Give back the hundred thousand lives gone down
To blackest night! give back the happy homes
Made desolate by rum's rude hand, and own
The debt can ne'er be paid till judgment comes.

Give back to life the broken-hearted wives
Whose noble souls by you were steeped in tears,
Give fathers to the orphan, joy to lives
That have not known what gladness is for years.

O you hard hearts, O cruel men of Rum.
Disgorge the untold millions, countless wealth
Purloined from labor; ah? so vast a sum
Would give a world contentment, thrift and health.

BY SELWYN.

LICENSE FOR WHAT!

BY REV. JOHN PIERPONT.

License to make the strong man weak,
License to lay the wise man low,
License the wife's fond heart to break,
And make her children's tears to flow.

License to do thy neighbor harm,
License to kindle hate and strife,
License to nerve the robber's arm,
License to whet the murderer's knife.

License thy neighbor's purse to drain,
And o'er his soul a shadow cast;
License to heat his fevered brain,
Till madness crown thy work at last.

License, like spider for a fly,
To spread thy nets for man, thy prey,
To mock his struggles, suck him dry,
Then cast the worthless hulk away.

License where peace and quiet dwell,
To send disease and want and woe;
License to make this WORLD A HELL,
And FIT MAN FOR A HELL BELOW.

An Explanation.

The Liquor Men have urged that it is rather unfair, if not illegal, to count the votes of those districts (townships and boroughs) where licenses are now granted only by the voice of the people, against them. The citizens of such places have not only a specific, but a general right as voters interested not only in the welfare of their respective districts, but in that of the whole people of the county. The true reason, however, of the citizens of those districts being invited and permitted to vote on the question is to equalize them with the other districts of the city so far as time is concerned. They are now operating under the Local Option system, and as the term of time of the special laws enacted for them will expire inside of that proposed in the law to be voted upon to-morrow, they simply will vote to continue in force their present regulations for the unexpired term—to equalize in time for the general triennial election. The voters in the present districts where option prevails, will therefore be expected to do their duty by voting, if they would have continued the system, and, besides, a neglect of such duty may jeopardize the good cause in the whole county. Let no one, then, in the present districts where the good effects of Local Option are observable and felt, fail to cast his vote on the all important and moral question to-morrow.

TRUTH.

Local Option vs. Reduced Taxation.

As showing that the greater part of that immense sum known as the United States Internal Revenue, is paid by distillers of spirits, we submit the following figures, taken from the books of Thos. W. Davis, Esq., Collector Internal Revenue, Twenty-second District, Pa., showing the amount of taxes paid by Messrs. Jos. S. Finch & Co., of this city, since the 1st inst.:

March 1st	$ 619 50
March 3d	317 10
March 4th	1,110 50
March 5th	1,873 80
March 6th	1,033 80
March 7th	6,183 40
March 10th	1,577 20
March 11th	1,899 10
March 12th	435 50
March 13th	704 30
March 14th	84 80
March 15th	2,996 00
March 17th	897 30
March 18th	3,518 30
March 19th	2,243 10
Being	$25,493 70

In nineteen days, or at the rate of $500,000 00 annually. To consider when and how this money shall be raised in case Local Option prevails, may afford food for reflection to the intelligent and tax-paying voters.

COMMON SENSE.

Local Option.

A grand Mass Meeting of the friends of this measure will be held this evening in Liberty Hall, East End. Reasons why we should vote Against License will be presented by Marshall Swartzwelder, Esq., J. A. Emery, Esq., Rev. Mr. Witherspoon, and others. Singing by the M. E. choir, Mr. Bender, leader, and Miss Wilson, organist.

Death of a Well Known Character.

Eliza McNutt, whose name has appeared on the dockets of the police courts of this city, time without number, was arrested on Tuesday morning by officer Berger, on the usual charge of drunkenness. When placed in the lockup she complained of feeling unwell, and gradually grew worse, until yesterday morning about five o'clock, when she died. The Coroner was notified and an inquest held. It needed no great deliberation to return a verdict of "death by intemperance and exposure." The history of the deceased is the oft repeated tale of one who formerly moved in good society and was well provided with this world's goods; but the terrible temptation to drink, which she could not resist, gradually lost her all her friends until she died regretted by no friend or relative.

Meeting of the Fire Commission.

A special meeting of the Fire Commission was held yesterday afternoon, to consider means of supplying the South Side with the fire alarm telegraph. Present, Messrs. McElroy, Torley, Wilson, Walton, and President Stewart. Mr. Gardner, representing the firm of Gamewell & Co., New York, made a proposition to furnish the required boxes, apparatus, &c., which was discussed at considerable length. Other propositions were made on behalf of the Commission, and the matter was finally referred to a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. McElroy, Wilson and Walton, with instructions to confer with the City Solicitor, and prepare a contract. The Commission then adjourned to meet this afternoon at four o'clock, when the Committee will report, and the contract probably be finally entered into.

D. Appleton & Co.

This eminent book publishing firm, whose publications we have had frequent occasion to commend—announce in another column, several fresh volumes, which have been issued from their presses. This house makes it a particular point to issue nothing but high toned, pure literature, and everything bearing the imprint of Appleton & Co., is worthy a place in any well selected library.

The firm will send any of their publications, which cannot be had at once from the bookstores, to any address free of postage, on receipt of the advertised price. Their headquarters are at 549 and 551 Broadway, New York, and we take pleasure in calling attention to their publications.

Who is at Fault?

WASHINGTON, PA., March 18, 1873.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

Will you allow a subscriber and reader of the DAILY GAZETTE to complain in a few gentle words? The question involved may be settled by yourselves and the postmaster of your city.

Yesterday's GAZETTE reached me by mail to-day at noon, in company with that of this date. One instance of this sort would be of small moment; but it is of frequent occurrence. Why this should be when the mail train leaves the Union Depot at about nine o'clock A. M., is what I cannot explain.

Is the fault in your office? or are the agents of the mail responsible? I incline to the latter view, for the reason that often letters dropped in the city office for this place, before 9 o'clock P. M., do not reach us until the second day. It was not so in the days of the old coach, which started at 5 o'clock A. M.—some four hours earlier than the present arrangement. In the competition between the main lines, are we, your close neighbors, of so small account?

Perhaps this call of attention to the subject is all that may be needed. Yours, &c.,

LITTLE WASHINGTON.

[It is useless for our readers to complain, as there is not a business house in the city, as well as all the newspaper offices, but what is treated shamefully with their mail matters. The Postmaster here is doing all he can, but that there is a screw loose somewhere there is no doubt. We are in receipt daily of letters of inquiry in regard to letters, containing money, that have never reached us. It is time something was done. The people are tired of it. Will the Postoffice Department do something in this matter?]—EDS.

The Western University.

Among the incredible things in journalism is that a paper in this city has been found capable of writing a scurrilously disparaging article about our Western University, as if it was of no account, was doing no good, and had no capacity of usefulness. Such articles can do no harm to the institution here, where its injustice and absurdity are so well known, but is calculated to operate against the appropriation in its aid proposed in a bill pending in the Legislature.

We have not urged this appropriation on any other ground than the right of our University to share in any State benefactions to colleges or universities that might be granted. We maintain that it would be derelict in our members to permit $200,000 to be given to Universities in Philadelphia and nothing to the University at Pittsburgh. The Western University has been twice burned. The last fire left it with no fund but $7,000 received from the underwriters. From that day of its poverty and prostration, through the benefactions of its friends, it has risen to a condition of great usefulness, it has a faculty of fourteen professors, all of them honoring their positions, it is imparting instruction in most of the higher branches of college courses—it has courses of free lectures on law and on the practical sciences, its Chancellor is a gentleman of high culture whose life work is education, who is devoting all his large experience and all his energies with untiring industry and encouraging success to the best interests of the University. From the small beginnings referred to above, the trustees, with the aid of the Chancellor, and by the liberality of friends, have so far advanced the institution that it now possesses in property and endowments probably not less than $350,000, and if friendly legislation can be obtained expects to double this within a few years, and to make the Western University a first class American University, worthy to be cherished and preserved for the education and elevation of the young without distinction of sect or race in all the ages to come. It is for this institution, thus respectable and useful in its present status and noble in its aspirations for the future that we claim equal favor at the hands of our Legislature, with those in other parts of the Commonwealth.

A TRAVELING TRIO.

Where They Landed—A Quartette.

Maria McCall, of No. 9 Church alley, and two of her inmates, Mary Williams and Annie Dawson, last evening got on a drunk, and while in that condition concluded to visit what is known as the "Hole-in-the-Wall," on Washington street, near the elevator, and of which "Pug" Oliver, now serving out a three months term at Claremont, is proprietress. While at this place Maria got offended at one of the inmates, Sadie Williams by name, and forthwith she, assisted by the other two females, proceeded "to go for" Sadie. She rushed out and sought the assistance of officer Cronin, who, with the aid of one or two other officers, succeeded in bringing the entire quartette to the Central Station. The Mayor will inquire how it was this morning.

CANNIBALISM.

How Thomas Brennan Didn't Succeed in Eating an Officer.

Thomas Brennan got drunk yesterday afternoon, and while in that condition strolled into the Union Depot, and there, on one of the benches laid his carcass down and went to sleep. Now to sleep off whisky in the depot is against its moral usage and rule, and Officer John Kennedy, one of the depot constables, realizing that fact endeavored to waken Mr. B., and bid him depart if he was waiting for no train. Brennan's sudden waking seemed to have demoralized him, for he assailed the officer with a torrent of abuse and vile epithets. That gentleman tried to assuage his wrath by "moral suasion" but he wouldn't be "suased," he seized the officer's arm with his teeth and commenced to eat him without salt. The officer tried to make him let go his hold when he caught one of his hands and bit several of the fingers terribly. After a tussel Kennedy succeeded in depositing his prisoner in the lock-up, from whence Mayor Blackmore sent him to the Work House for thirty days.

THE FLAMES.

Three Small Fires in Allegheny.

Fires in Allegheny yesterday were quite numerous, though none of them were very destructive. The first broke out about one o'clock, in the kitchen of Dr. Easton's residence, on Chestnut street, which is unoccupied while being repaired. Officer Snyder discovered the fire, and with the assistance of two other officers burst open the door and extinguished the flames with but slight damage. It is supposed that the workmen had left a fire in the house in the afternoon.

About an hour later fire was discovered in the saloon of Robert Christy, on south Canal street, near Madison avenue. An alarm was sounded from box 54. The department responded and soon extinguished the flames, though not before the saloon was gutted. The loss on the building, owned by William Fehring, will amount to about one thousand dollars, covered by insurance in the Etna Company.

A small barn and smoke house on Vista street, containing a quantity of meat, was burned about ten o'clock yesterday forenoon. Loss, one hundred dollars.

BREVITIES.

....To-morrow is the deciding day of Local Option.

....Consolidationists and Local Optionists are both very sanguine as to ultimate results.

....The fountain in front of the Allegheny City Hall was put in operation yesterday.

....The Allegheny anti-consolidationists left Harrisburg last evening, and will arrive home to-day.

....To-morrow will be regarded as a "Black Friday" by some folks, no matter how the election goes.

....A little boy who wandered from his home at No. 36 Market street, was found on Mount Washington.

....An interesting contest, perhaps the closest ever held in Pittsburgh and Allegheny is expected to-morrow.

....A special meeting of Allegheny Councils will be held on Friday evening, for the election of Street Commissioners.

....Some of the politicians of Allegheny urge the location of the proposed new public buildings on that side of the river if consolidation be effected.

....The Railroad Committee of Councils will meet this afternoon at three o'clock. The Committee on Wooden Buildings will meet at half-past three o'clock, and the Market Committe at 7:30 P. M.

....Two men named Patterson and Snyder, have been arrested in Allegheny charged with having garroted Mr. Wall on Saturday night, as previously reported. They will have a hearing this morning.

....The opponents to the consolidation of Pittsburgh and Allegheny feel somewhat elated over the act of the Legislature allowing a vote of the people of the North Side on the question. They claim that that means a final defeat of the measure.

....Mayor Blackmore announces his determination to enforce the law relative to closing saloons on election day, next Friday. The police will be on double duty, and are instructed to see that back doors as well as front doors are closed during the hours specified.

....Hams came down yesterday—on High street a wagon loaded with that article of food got stalled near Wylie avenue, and the whole load had to be laid on the side walk before the wagon could be drawn out of the mud. The driver talked somewhat peculiar, but the pork was not spoiled.

....The residents of Oakland are anxiously enquiring about a means of transit to the business portion of the city during the summer. The work on the Fifth avenue improvement renders it necessary to stop the street cars, and the Oaklanders will have to walk if that omnibus line is not established.

....There was quite a large meeting at Lafayette Hall last evening, composed of those opposed to God in the United States Constitution. Rev. Mr. Neil called the meeting to order, and Mr. Charles Meyras was chosen to preside. Messrs. Wm. D. Moore, W. Anten, Mr. Meyer and others made addresses. Resolutions showing the opinion of the meeting were unanimously adopted.

....A meeting of colored citizens favoring license was held last evening in Ashland Hall, Wylie avenue. Chas. B. Wholm was elected President, William Robinson Vice President and Samuel Lindsay Secretary. Addresses were made by Dr. Green, Messrs. White, Bell, Anderson, Lindsay and Harvey. A series of resolutions were adopted favoring license, and the meeting adjourned.

....The death of Mr. Henry Warner, Sr., father of the County Controller, is announced as having occurred at his residence, No. 210 Lacock street, Allegheny, on Tuesday evening last, at the advanced age of seventy-eight years. He was one of the most esteemed citizens of our county, having throughout a long life sustained the reputation of an upright and honorable Christian and gentleman. His remains will be laid to their final rest this afternoon at two o'clock.

....There seems to be a difference of opinion among the legal fraternity as to the law which has been construed as a barrier to the presence of women at the polls. The law imposes a fine and imprisonment on any person not a qualified voter or son of a voter, who shall attend to distribute tickets or to influence voters; but "persons" meant, it is thought is one of the male persuasion, as the law refers to the person as "he." It is hardly probable the gentle dames will suffer any serious inconvenience on this score; while in the general interests of fraternal feeling it is to be hoped that the expected brightness, and beauty and vivacity, etc., will not be even in the slightest degree deterred by any legal sinuosities from enlivening the scene around the polls.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

GEORGE F. WARD, for abusing his wife, was sent ninety days to the Work House, by Acting Mayor Neillie, of Allegheny, yesterday.

G. F. WARD, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was sent to the Work House yesterday by Deputy Mayor Neillie, of Allegheny, for ninety days.

PATTERSON, mentioned elsewhere as having been arrested on charge of garroting, was released last evening by Deputy Mayor Neillie, in five hundred dollars bail.

MR. JOHN LOUDEN, at whose door an infant was left on last Saturday night, has made an information at the Allegheny Mayor's office, charging Mrs. Criller with abandoning her child.

THE Mayor disposed of twenty-seven common cases at the early hearing yesterday morning. Charles Baker and William Minor, charged with vagrancy, were sent to the work-house for sixty days each.

KATE CADY, before Alderman Taylor, has preferred a charge of surety of the peace against Isabella Carr. She alleges that Kate made various threats and called her vile names. She was arrested and held for a hearing.

INFORMATION has been made before Alderman Moreland, by Daniel Sweeny, charging Daniel Colle and John Cole with an assault and battery. One of the accused, Cole, was arrested and gave bail in three hundred dollars for a hearing. An officer is searching for Colle.

THE hearing in the case of a number of young men before Deputy Mayor Helsel, of the South Side, on the charge of disorderly conduct at Adam Jae's beer hall concert saloon, several nights ago, took place yesterday, and resulted in a fine of ten dollars and costs being imposed upon each. The thirteen defendants paid the fines and left the office, vigorously asserting their determination to vote against license on Friday.

PERSONAL.

Hon. Henry J. Birch, a Louisiana State Senator, is visiting friends in Allegheny. He is at present the guest of Benjamin F. Pulpress, Esq.

George L. McCoy and Wm. M. Ramsey have been elected members of the Board of Directors of the American Building and Loan Association in place of George Falkinshein, deceased, and S. A. Cosgrave resigned.

Bishop Kerfoot, for whose recovery so much anxiety is felt, we are happy to say is no worse, although very little better. The bleedings are less frequent and slighter from day to day. He subsists on slops, as an attempt to masticate provokes hemorrhage. His recovery at best is likely to be slow. We make this notice in reply to letters of inquiry from different parts of the diocese.

Hon. Wm. McClelland, member of Forty-Second Congress from the Beaver District, made a brief call at our Sanctum, yesterday. Wherever we have met Mr. McClelland, at Washington or elsewhere, we have found him an intelligent and courteous gentleman. None of all the Democratic members was more, or more deservedly, a personal favorite with members of all parties. We are almost, and if he were a Republican, we would be altogether sorry that he was not re-elected.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The "Black Crook" matinee was well attended yesterday. Last evening it was greeted with another full house. The various specialities were well received. It will be played the balance of the week.

LIBRARY HALL.—If ever a minstrel organization was popular in this city, the palm must be extended to Messrs. Carncross and Dixey. They certainly deserve their popularity, for no organization of the kind visiting this city gives a more chaste, varied and interesting performance than does this troupe. Furthermore, the members constituting it are gentlemen, and as such an ornament to the profession. The seats for the balance of the week are pretty well taken, and those desiring to witness any of the entertainments had better visit Kleber's Music Store during the day and secure their seats. Mr. Beamer is there to wait on them. To-morrow evening is the benefit of Mr. Dixey.

THE COMING CONCERTS.—Expectation is on tip-toe for the forthcoming concerts to be given by Theodore Thomas and his Orchestra, Rubinstein, the eminent pianist, and Wieniawski, the great violinist, on next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, at Library Hall. The programmes offered are such as to please the taste of those musically inclined at all. The sale of seats commenced yesterday, at Kleber's music store, and the rush for them, as we predicted, was very great. Undoubtedly the season here will be very successful, as this combination is the most extraordinary ever brought together.

OLE BULL.—This greatest and most popular of violinists will give two grand concerts in this city, at Library Hall, on the evenings of April 2d and 3d, assisted by first-class artists.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—On next Tuesday evening Mrs. G. C. Howard, in connection with R. G. Clark's New York Dramatic Company, will commence an engagement for three nights, appearing in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Little Florence Newman will enact the character of Eva. Box office opens on Monday.

AIMS' AMERICAN THEATRE.—This house through the efforts of the management continues on in its popular career. Everything in the line of Vaudeville is here presented, in first class style. THE LICENSE ADVOCATES.

Meeting Last Night at City Hall.

A meeting of the advocates of license was held last evening in City Hall, Market street. The Hall was filled about half full, though there was a stream of persons going in and out almost continually. At half past seven o'clock the meeting was organized by the election of the following officers:

President—James Littell.

Vice Presidents—Hon. James A. Blackmore, Chas. Armstrong, Chas. W. Batchelor, Peter Zern, Frank J. McCrighton, E. H. Meyers, Frank Ardary, A. Groelzinger, A. Reineman, Dr. F. Hartmeyer, Joseph Meyer, Anthony Meyer, Dr. Meinentzhagin, Wm. Neeb, C. F. Bauer, John W. Pittock, Daniel O'Neill, Robt. Dickson, John W. Riddell, John Wilson, George B. Chalmers, R. J. Richardson, Hon. H. McCleary, Hon. James Taylor, C. O'Donnell, Robt. Fowler, Seth Wilmot, A. J. Moore, Isaac Reineman, Louis Morganstern, W. J. Meek, John Shipton, Isaac Kahn, David Stein, Jacob Klee, Simon Kauffman, Henry Oppenherman, August Hartje, Chas. Schwartz, Chas. Meyran C. Van Buran, Henry Gerring and C. R. Leck.

Secretaries—Reporters of the press.

Mr. Littell, upon taking the chair, made a few introductory remarks, in which he alluded particularly to the statement of the opponents of license that the liquor dealers had been given a year's notice to prepare for this emergency, which statement he denied.

Col. A. Blakeley was then introduced, who argued that the great evils of intemperance cannot be remedied by legislation, but men's appetites must be changed and educated in the right direction by a moral influence. The Speaker said that he was a temperance man, and for that very reason he opposed this movement. If Local Option were adopted, the cause of temperance in Allegheny county would be thrown back ten years. The adoption of Local Option would drive from the business every respectable man now engaged in it, and their places would be filled by the very worst class, who would not respect the law. The speaker here enlarged upon the "drug store theory," claiming that if licence were prohibited, drug stores, which are allowed to sell liquor "for manufacturing purposes," would spring up on every corner and in every cellar. He held that the true theory of reform is not to make laws which are impracticable and which cannot be enforced, but to enforce the laws which we now have. The speaker closed by arguing that the adoption of Local Option law would be a direct violation of all known principles of justice, as no person had a right to dictate what others should eat or drink.

R. J. Powers, Esq., was next introduced by the Chairman. After a short introduction the speaker said that temperance or intemperance was not the question at issue, but that the Local Optionists had endeavored to mislead voters by making it appear so. The question is Shall we or shall we not grant licenses for the sale of liquor in Allegheny county? This much being granted, the question recurs, is this or is it not a just law? Every fair-minded man will admit that the law is unjust. To accomplish the objects the temperance men have in view—the total prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors—is utterly impossible by this means. If, then, they cannot gain their ends, why need they go to the polls at all? This same law tried in other States had proved an utter failure. In Ohio, Maine and New York this had been the result, and will prove the same here, where you, who love freedom, will eat, drink and wear just what you please. [Applause.]

Mr. Otto Luedicke next addressed the audience in German, after which the meeting adjourned.

PENNSYLVANIA PETROLEUM RAILROAD.

Annual Meeting at Titusville—The Lease of the Road—Removal of Offices to Meadville—New Directors Chosen.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Petroleum Railroad, was held at the office of the company, in Titusville, on Monday.

A. H. Steele, the President, in his report announced that the negotiation pending for a lease or transfer of the road had been so perfected that the road had that day passed into the hands of the Atlantic & Great Western Railroad.

The stockholders then proceeded to an election, with the following result:

President—James B. Hodgskin.

Directors—A. H. Steele, J. D. Barton, R. E. O'Brien, Thomas Warnoch, W. B. Shattue, John D. Dynes, John T. Waugh.

Immediately after the stockholders' meeting the newly elected Board of Directors met and elected A. H. Steele, Vice President, James T. Blair, Secretary, F. A. Goddard, Auditor, R. E. O'Brien, Chief Engineer.

A resolution was unanimously passed that the best interests of this company require that the work of building the road from Titusville to Erie be prosecuted with the utmost vigor and completed at the earliest possible day. A resolution was also passed deciding upon the removal of the general office to Meadville, after which the meeting adjourned.

THE SUKE'S RUN SEWER.

Meeting of the Citizens of the Sixth Ward Last Evening.

A meeting of property owners of the Sixth ward was held last evening at the Ann street school house, for the purpose of taking action regarding the proposed act of Assembly relative to legalizing the assessments for the Suke's run sewer.

Mr. W. Pier was called to the chair and H. H. Bengough appointed Secretary.

Several speeches were made on the subject, and the aid of all persons interested was asked to prevent the special legislation that is mentioned above.

Resolutions were adopted strongly condemning any action by the Legislature to compel property holders of the ward to bear the heavy assessments for this sewer.

On motion, a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Pier, Malone and Kaizer, was appointed to act on behalf of the property holders until the next meeting, and, if necessary, to proceed at once to Harrisburg in the interest of the same.

A large number of the property holders have signed a list, in which they agree to bear all expenses incurred in the endeavor to prevent the legislation alluded to, which is claimed to be unjust.

The meeting then adjourned to meet on next Saturday evening at 7½ o'clock.

The Temperance Banner—Meetings in the Seventh and Eighth Wards.

A temperance meeting was held last night in the Eighth U. P. Church, (Rev. Sand's) Van Bram street. Before the hour announced for the meeting, the house was filled to overflowing. The Hutchinson Family led the singing in their usual excellent style. They opened by singing the invocation in such a manner that the audience were perfectly entranced. Prayer having been offered, the Hutchinson Family commenced singing "Rally round the flag for temperance," when the audience were surprised by seeing a gentlemen emerge from a side door, bearing aloft a splendid United States standard company flag.

After the song, Rev. Sands explained to the meeting this was the "Prize Flag" to be presented to the ward in either city that polls the largest vote against license in proportion to the number of votes polled, and he hoped that the Eighth ward would vote so as to earn this splendid national flag. The flag was then taken to the A. M. E. Church, Wylie avenue, where a respectable meeting welcomed its appearance. After the flag had been in the room a few minutes the house began to fill up, and every one appeared to be taken by surprise. The audience joined heartily in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" with a will. After several very eloquent speeches, the meeting adjourned, determined to turn out every vote against license and secure the splendid flag for the Seventh ward, if possible.

A Sad Picture.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It is doubtless easy for a learned man in his retired study to write scripturally and physiologically of the liberties of the laboring man. He may cite the laws of Moses, and the benevolent teachings of our Saviour, but have we not now to do with the abuses of these laws. Was there in those days a beer saloon with tempting arrays of all kinds of liquor, cheap as well as expensive, at every other door, so as to meet the tempted and unwary at every step? The laboring man refreshed in his weary rounds is truly a pleasing picture; but go with the visitor to the Relief Society and see the other side. Enter a forlorn home; see a group of children and broken down mother; she toils daily to get bread for them, the husband has not worked for months, lounging in the beer restaurant all day; he comes in late, goes to bed, and rising in the morning recruits his strength with the last morsel of bread in the closet, and goes out to pursue his daily round, not caring whether his wife or children starve, feeding himself on his wife's hardly earned bread, and even on that sent in by some charitable hand. This picture is often seen by the writer, and doubtless many others who look into the homes and wants of the poor. In nearly all cases demanding relief, intemperance is the cause; a temperate laboring man will support his family and is proud of his comfortable home.

A SYMPATHIZER WITH THE NEEDY.

Local Option.

Yesterday afternoon a public meeting was held in the M. E. Church, corner of Arch and Twenty-fifth streets, South Side. Mr. John Augs took the chair. Mr. J. A. Mowatt, of Allegheny, addressed the meeting for over an hour and was repeatedly applauded. A vote of thanks having been passed the meeting adjourned.

Yesterday evening at 7½ o'clock a crowded meeting was held in the U. P. Church, Fourteenth street, South Side. Rev. W. M. Coleman presided. Mr. J. A. Mowatt delivered an enthusiastic and stirring address for over an hour and a half, touching dozens of objections of prohibition, and answering them amid roars of laughter by the audience. A vote of thanks having been passed to Mr. Mowatt, the audience separated.

Alcohol.

To-night our citizens should not fail to go and hear Dr. Sutton at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, where he delivers a free lecture on the subject of Alcohol. The opinion of physicians as to the effect of alcohol upon the human body, is one that all persons should heed, and to-night an opportunity will be given for hearing one of our leading physicians.

WATCHERS APPOINTED.

The Argument on the Appointment of Overseers—The Objection Overruled.

Yesterday afternoon the argument in the matter of the appointment of overseers for the polls next Friday, was heard in the Court of Common Pleas by Judge Stowe. The argument was very brief. The temperance men through their counsel, Mr. W. K. Jennings, presented the petition for the appointment of watchers in certain districts where they feared irregularities. No argument was entered into on this side,—the applicants resting upon their construction of the law,—that it gave them this power.

Mr. W. D. Moore for the Anti-Local Optionists opposed the application contended in a short speech that the law was made expressly to provide against frauds at a political contest; and that it could not be applied in other cases, if it could there would be endless labor, for at every contest at the polls however trivial the same process would have to be gone through with, entailing loss of time and expense.

The Court after the argument, sustained the position of the petitioners, and held that the law while it used the word "political" clearly meant that as a sort of direction to the Court—an instruction to the effect that whenever there was a contest at the polls, and fears of unfairness were entertained that either party to the question to be decided could ask for overseers, and had a right to have them appointed—provided that the right was accorded to each side. The law merely decided that where the overseers were asked for each side in the contest should be represented.

Hence the prayer of the petitioners was granted.

The temperance men then presented petitions for the appointment of the following overseers in the districts named:

Pittsburgh.
First ward—P. F. Keating.
Sixth ward—James Munn.
Seventh ward—Elias Hunzeker.
Eighth ward—Wm. Shore (Ald.)
Nineteenth ward—Olivia Ferson.

Allegheny.
First ward—George Irwin.
Fourth ward, 1st precinct—A. Beggs.
Ninth ward—Cyrus Hutchison.

These appointments were ratified by the Court. The other side presented no names, but will doubtless do so before the day of election.

A BEAUTIFUL ARRAY.

Elegant Articles for the Household—Beauty and Utility Combined.

Messrs. H. J. Felber & Co., the well-known importers of No. 169 Smithfield street, are just receiving their immense new stock of spring importations of China, Glass and Queensware direct from Europe. These gentlemen import largely and direct from the European manufacturing houses, from their facilities and immense purchases at the lowest prices, such as no other house in the city in their line can excel both as to price and quality. This house make it a genuine specialty to decorate china. They can decorate a dinner or tea set any style that you prefer, and put on it your monogram or initial just as you would be pleased to have it. This is the only house west of New York or Philadelphia that can do or has facilities for doing such work in first class style. We have seen some of their work in this especial and peculiar line, and can confidently say that it is equal to that which is imported. The articles we saw were an elegant porcelain toilette set, decorated for one of our leading citizens, also a pitcher, which replaces one that was broken of a set. This work is such that it would do credit to any city in the Union, and of which we should be proud. Their store is complete in all the various departments. In china everything appertaining to the line may be found in all styles and qualities; Variety enough to suit even the most fastidious, and then glassware; we have hardly room to enumerate it. There are wine and champagne glasses, goblets, tumblers, big and little, decanters, cruets, globes, shades and other articles of that description too numerous to mention. They also have artificial flowers in glass globes, so near to nature, that we could almost imagine their perfume, and felt a half inclination just to pull a bud, they looked so sweet and tempting. The wax crosses they keep on sale are perfect marvels; they have them frosted and plain covered with glass globes. They look exceedingly beautiful and artistic, and aid to embellish the establishment which is certainly one of the completest in its line in the west. These gentlemen also make a little specialty of manufacturing barber mugs. This may seem a small part of their business, but we saw some of their embellishing yesterday, which showed great taste and considerable neatness. This house make it a great point to furnish hotels and restaurants with any thing they may want to complete a thorough outfit for the breakfast, dinner or tea table. They furnish even to the knives and forks and silver ware. In conclusion, we can say, visit the house of H. J. Felber & Co., and examine their stock if you want anything in their line. They are able to sell goods as low as any house in the East or West. Their stock is complete in every detail that appertains to their business, and they are always happy to show goods whether you purchase of them or not.

A saving of twenty-five per cent. to all purchasers draws large crowds to Macrum & Carlisle's great closing sale. Their customers are quite enthusiastic over the great bargains.

To Investors.

To those who wish to re-invest coupons or dividends, and those who wish to increase their income from means already invested in other less profitable securities, we recommend the city and county bonds for sale by Luther S. Kauffman, Stock and Bond Broker, 116 Smithfield street. All marketable stocks and bonds are received in exchange on most favorable terms.

Twenty cents returned on every dollar at McCrum & Carlisle's great sale.

Arizona Diamonds, set in solid gold, sold only at 38 Fifth Avenue.

The Great Closing Sale at Macrum & Carlisle's has proved an immense success. Crowds of ladies throng the store from morning till night, and seem delighted with the elegant goods at such a large discount.

A PARAGRAPH FOR DYSPEPTICS.

If you have a weak stomach, and wish to make it weaker, take violent purgations. There is no surer way to render indigestion chronic. But if you are dyspeptic, and, like a sensible person desire to strengthen your digestive organs and compel them to perform their essential duties thoroughly and regularly, take a dose of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters before every meal, until your delinquent stomach is restored to a healthy condition. It should be understood that dyspepsia is always complicated with disturbances of the liver and an unnatural state of the bowels, and that no medicine which does not reach and rectify these irregularities can possibly cure this agonizing disease. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an anti-bilious agent and a gradual cathartic, as well as a tonic and stomachic, and hence its unparalleled efficacy in the severest cases of chronic indigestion.
